TN, PUDUCHERRY BRACE FOR MORE RAIN

The toll due to heavy rainfall in Tamil Nadu rose to 12 on Wednesday. The Meteorological Department said that parts of the state and Puducherry are likely to experience heavy showers on Thursday and Friday due to a depression over the Bay of Bengal. Eight flights were cancelled at the Chennai International Airport due to bad weather. Both the governments have taken precautionary measures for relief and rehabilitation of citizens| P9

INDIA TO HOLD BACK ON COP26 PLEDGE OVER CLIMATE FUNDS?

Media reports say the country may not update official climate commitments to UN to reflect PM Modi's pledges last week

$1 TRILLION FINANCING FOR GREEN TRANSITION

Prime Minister Narendra Modi said at the COP26 Summit in Glasgow that India would set 2070 as the deadline for net-zero carbon emissions. He also made other ambitious pledges such as raising the share of renewable sources in India's energy mix to 50%. At the same time, Modi demanded that developed nations provide $1 trillion in climate finance just for India

8 NSAs vow to ensure Af won't turn terror hub

Radicalisation, drug trafficking discussed

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

EMPHASISING that Afghan soil should not be used for sheltering, training, planning or financing any terrorist acts, national security heads of eight countries on Wednesday jointly decided to work towards that objective. India hosted the Third Regional Security Dialogue in New Delhi, with National Security Advisor Ajit Doval chairing it.

The Delhi Declaration they released after the meeting condemned all terror activities emanating from that country and reiterated their strong support for a peaceful, secure and stable Afghanistan. They "reaffirmed their firm commitment to combat terrorism in all its forms and manifestations, including its financing, the dismantling of terrorist infrastructure and countering radicalization, to ensure that Afghanistan would never become a safe haven for global terrorism."

While security czars from Russia, Iran, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Uzbekistan, Turkmenistan and Tajikistan participated, Pakistan and China gave it a miss.

The security heads also discussed the problem of radicalisation and drug trafficking in the war-torn nation, and emphasised on the need for quick humanitarian assistance and support to combat the Covid pandemic. In view of the worsening humanitarian situation, the officials pushed for global assistance to the Afghan people in an unimpeded, direct and assured manner, adding the aid should be distributed in a non-discriminatory manner across all sections of the society.

The declaration also underscored the need to ensure fundamental rights of women as well as that of children and minority communities. After the meeting, the visiting security heads called on Prime Minister Narendra Modi and briefed him about the deliberations.

WON'T COVER UP BITCOIN SCAM: CM

Slamming Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah for alleging that senior politicians and their families are involved in the Bitcoin scam, Bommai said that the case has already been handed over to the Enforcement Directorate, who are probing. "We are open to any inquiry and there is no question of a cover-up, even if big names are involved," he asserted.

K'TAKA TO GET COAL SUPPLIES FROM ODISHA, MAHARASHTRA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA will get coal from Maharashtra and Odisha for thermal power generation units, said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai in New Delhi on Wednesday after meeting Union Minister for Coal and Mines Pralhad Joshi. He claimed that the state is not facing any power crisis due to coal shortage.

Bommai, who is on a two-day visit to Delhi, said Joshi assured him of coal supplies from both blocks in Maharashtra and asked Karnataka to make preparations for transportation.

He said Karnataka has got permission to mine coal at Mandakini block in Odisha. "We are making arrangements to start mining," he added. When he approached the Union government last time, the state did not get the environmental clearance. "We later went to Union Minister for Environment, Forests and Climate Change Bhupendra Yadav and now we have the clearance. We can mine at Mandakini block which is good news for Karnataka. As of now, there is no shortage of coal and we will ensure that there will be no shortfall in the future too," he added.

On Mekedaatu, he said the state government is determined to implement the ambitious project, which needs clearance from the Central Water Commission (CWC). CWC has already given permission to the state to prepare a detailed project report, but with a rider that a nod from the Cauvery Management Authority (CMA) is mandatory. "The issue has been referred to CMA and a meeting has already been convened," he added. P6

FURROWS IN A FIELD

A reluctant PM, Gowda wanted to be CM for long, reveals book

RAMU PATIL @Bengaluru

IN 1996, when the then Karnataka chief minister HD Deve Gowda was elevated as country's Prime Minister, everyone was surprised. But what many do not know was his reluctance to take up the top post, as he wanted to continue in Karnataka politics and further his career.

In his soon-to-be-released biography, Furrows In A Field: The Unexplored Life of HD Deve Gowda by senior journalist Sugata Srinivasaraju and published by Penguin Random House India, Gowda is quoted as requesting the then West Bengal Chief Minister Jyoti Basu: "Sir, I have been the Chief Minister for less than two years. My career will end abruptly. The Congress party will not let us run the government for long. I want to be like you. I want to rule Karnataka for many years."

It was a long struggle for Gowda to reach the chief minister's position in 1994 and he was at the peak of his political career in 1996 when the Prime Minister's post came knocking. His party, the Janata Dal, was in a formidable position, having won 16 of the 28 Lok Sabha seats in the state, propelling him to the national stage after Atal Behari Vajpayee resigned as Prime Minister.

Gowda was shocked when United Front leaders proposed his name to the post. Given his political acumen, Gowda was sceptical of Congress continuing its support to the coalition government for long. His hunch proved right. P6

New norms to prescribe random tests for kids

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

WITH schools reopening in the offline mode, the state government is coming out with revised guidelines on Covid tests for children that will include random tests on 5 per cent of children every week.

If more than 1 per cent of the children test positive in a week, offline classes in the school concerned will be suspended and classrooms/school will be closed for sanitisation. Officials said there will be no complacency, and if positive cases turn up, contact tracing, testing of primary and secondary contacts, isolation of symptomatic children will be done for a week and classrooms/school will be reopened only after seven days.

Experts from the Technical Advisory Committee (TAC), which has recommended the revised testing guidelines, told TNIE that the age group of 12-18 will be prioritised for tests. They recommended that any child with symptoms of fever, cold, cough, throat pain, difficulty in breathing, etc should be immediately isolated and tested. P5

Nykaa IPO mints richest self-made female billionaire

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

IT took just nine years for Falguni Nayar, the founder and CEO of Nykaa, to make her start-up so enormous that on the first day of listing on stock exchanges she emerged as India's wealthiest self-made female billionaire and found a spot in the top 20 billionaires list.

Nayar, 58, who owns more than half of Nykaa, is now worth about $7.5 billion and is ahead of Ashwin Dani, non-executive chairman of Asian Paints ($7.05 billion) in the Bloomberg Billionaires Index. When it comes to India's richest women, Nayar is now behind only Savitri Jindal ($12.9 billion), who controls the OP Jindal Group.

"I started Nykaa at the age of 50 with no experience. I hope the Nykaa journey can inspire each of you to be the Nykaa (heroine) of your lives," Nayar said before ringing the NSE's opening bell.

Nykaa shares's opened for trading at ₹2,018 per share on the NSE, up 79% from its issue price of ₹1,125. By the end of the session, the price was ₹2,208.

FOUR PANELS TO DESIGN NEP-DRIVEN CURRICULUM

Position papers to be ready by next month, says minister

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA @ Bengaluru

THE Education Department has set up four committees headed by IAS officers, to match the position papers (how education is imparted in the state) to what that the NEP mandates. This is believed to be towards a common curriculum at the national level, Primary and Secondary Education Minister B C Nagesh told TNIE on the sidelines of a programme in the city on Wednesday.

Nagesh said that the committees are headed by Samagra Shikshana Karnataka SPD Deepa Cholan, Additional Commissioner for Public Instruction Nalin Atul, PUC Board director R Snehal and Commissioner of Public Instruction, Vishal R.

The position papers look at how the curriculum will be framed and the administrative aspects will follow. The document will be given by December, Nagesh said. The present curriculum is said to be more content-driven than competency-driven.

In framing the curriculum, some aspects will be left to the discretion of the states — for instance, skill and languages, added Nagesh. Skill is based on the district specifications, and NEP says that primary education should be in regional language as much as possible, based on the number of students, but there is no compulsion. "Experts also have pointed out that students grasp better in their regional language, and saves teachers the effort of translation," he noted.

The steering committee, headed by retired ISRO chief K Kasturirangan at the national level, will look into the curricula framed by the states, and the best may be selected for a common curriculum to be implemented across the country, the minister opined.

Additional Commissioner Public Instruction Nalin Atul told TNIE that position papers will compare the framework for competency needed at each stage of education by the student, and the infrastructure needed.

In the meantime, issues with balancing co-curriculars and curriculars, giving each 50 per cent weightage in schools, have cropped up. How is one to assess marks scheme for a sport like Kabaddi, asked a member.

Minister invokes Sangh icon at NEP orientation

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE massive orientation programme for the National Education Policy (NEP) in school education on Wednesday, attended by department officials from districts, taluks and headquarters in Bengaluru, was in essence a recall of the personality of Bharatiya Jana Sangh founder Shyama Prasad Mukherjee.

Minister for Primary and Secondary Education BC Nagesh, who addressed the officials, said Mukherjee knew what kind of education should be imparted in future citizens and envisioned an education policy.

In light of NEP2020, which focuses on learning in local languages, Nagesh said that Mukherjee had laid emphasis that education should be based on local needs that create a healthy society, social mindset and self-esteem.

He highlighted how the present education system had, over the past 75 years, only made people selfish, and there were instances of students utilising public money pumped into education and then heading to America to make a living. The minister and experts highlighted the role of teachers in implementing the policy.

HC upholds Centre's notification on OCI students

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru:

THE Karnataka High Court upheld the Union government's notification dated March 4, 2021, which prohibits OCI (Overseas Citizenship of India) cardholders from staking claim for admission to any seats for professional education courses, other than availing under NRI quota and supernumerary seats.

However, in special circumstances of the case, the court permitted all the petitioner-students to stake claim for admission consistent with the interim relief made in their favour, subject to eligibility and qualification. Ten days' time is granted to the petitioners to produce the required documents before the Karnataka Examination Authority (KEA).

Justice Krishna S Dixit passed the order to that effect after hearing petitions filed by the students.

The petitioners, who are OCI cardholders, attempted to register online with the KEA to appear for the Common Entrance Test-2021. However, the KEA did not accord them non-supernumerary seats on the ground that they are not Indian citizens, as per the latest notification issued by the central government.

In exercise of powers under Section 7B(1) of the Citizenship Act, 1955, the central government issued the impugned notification restructuring the educational rights of OCI cardholders, and superseded earlier notifications.

The petitioners contended that the notifications issued in 2005 and 2009 were the accrued right of admission to professional educational courses for OCI cardholders and these rights are saved even under the present notification but are not applicable to professional courses. Therefore, the notification is liable to be voided as the central government issued it without competence as it is only the parliament which could have done it, they pleaded.

Additional Solicitor General of India MB Nargund contended that the impugned part of the 2021 notification is consciously incorporated.

Kadlekai Parishe on Nov 28

BENGALURU: Kadlekai Parishe, a festival dedicated to the goodness and versatility of groundnuts, is likely to be held this year on November 28, after a gap of two years. Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and the health department are finalising the last details.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta on Wednesday said that no additional restrictions will be imposed. "So far, no permission has been given. Once the organisers submit the proposal, permissions can be sorted out," he added.

Ravi Subramanya, Basavanagudi MLA, said, "Not just kadlekai, but even Avarekai Melas were not held. We will discuss all the issues before going ahead, as large crowd is expected at the event." He added that they are also exploring options of holding the festival in the BBMP or government grounds. ENS

Wards will monitor faecal matter to detect Covid cases

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru:

THE pilot study of assessing faecal matter from drains for variants and impact of the Covid-19 virus will now be decentralised and implemented at the ward level, where cases are rising and clusters are forming.

This decision was taken after realising the importance of this form of assessment and understanding the need for it, especially in the wake of Bengaluru's interconnected and complex drainage network.

BBMP Special Commissioner (Health) K V Trilok Chandra told TNIE that the assessment of fecal matter had started from June, and so far, no variants of concern have been found. The samples were being collected from drains and it was becoming difficult to know the exact details, so it was decided to pick samples from the ward level. Initially, the focus will be on wards where more cases are being reported, and then gradually shift to places where there is dense population, he added.

The concept of collecting and assessing fecal samples had started with Japan and Singapore during the first wave. After assessing cases and finding success, the exercise was stretched to other cities and countries. This form of assessment was also recommended by the Indian SARS-CoV-2 Genomics Consortium (INSACOG).

In Bengaluru, BBMP with the help of BWSSB, has been collecting samples from drains from various locations in the city. Health officers are not keen on disclosing the locations, fearing discrimination.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta said samples are being collected and assessment is going on, with the support of international agencies. The sewage system is also being closely monitored.

This form of assessment is essential as it will help ascertain the variants and strains. Apart from this, through the Covid-19 War Room, a close watch is being kept on each case, how many are going to hospital and whether they are vaccinated.

HORN NOT OKAY, PLEASE, SAY STUDENTS, RIDERS OBLIGE

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@Bengaluru

WITH severe noise pollution plaguing the areas surrounding the St Joseph's Indian High School at Vittal Mallya Road, students of the institution got out on the streets, urging drivers and riders to keep the honking to a minimum.

Slogans like 'Please have some civic sense. Avoid honking in traffic jams', 'Follow traffic rules, no honking near school zone', were held up by students for an hour outside their school. Rajkumar Dugar, Convenor, Citizens for Citizens (C4C), Bengaluru, who collaborated the campaign, said that the it managed to bring the decibel level down substantially.

He said that similar campaigns were held earlier at GPO Circle, Lalbagh West Gate and this time, he roped in his alma mater for the campaign.

Fr Cyril Menezes, SJIHS Principal, told TNIE that this is the first-of-its-kind campaign that was organised by the school. "120 students participated in the one-hour campaign, coordinated by the eco-club, to create an awareness on excessive honking," he added.

Dugar, who is the alumnus of the school, hopes that the campaign takes place at regular intervals. "Most educational institutions are unaware of the law. Such campaigns benefit students and motorists," he added.

Rashmi, who is a teacher at the school, said, "We were happy to collaborate with C4C. We were apprehensive but it worked."

11th November: I don't know about you, but I quite like this time of year. There's something about it which reminds me how we have to work with nature, not against it, and how we are part of nature, and not separate to it. And on the larger level, how we are all at one and in harmony with the Sun, Moon and planets.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
As from today, children will be an increasingly important element in your life. You may take this literally or follow a metaphorical path and understand that it is time to liberate what psychologists call 'the inner child', the part of you which never grew up, becoming more joyful and spontaneous in the process.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Circumstances beyond your control may be compelling you into family arrangements which are not of your choosing. If you find current developments unwelcome it would be very useful to check out any little way in which you have yourself contributed to the situation.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Life is moving on day by day and week by week, and you will soon need to be an expert on everything. The more you know, the better off you'll be, so you'll have to keep the facts at your fingertips. You'll also need to understand the inner meaning of today's events!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You needn't expect to have your usual amount of drive and determination over the next few weeks. It seems increasingly obvious that you are heading for a period which is ideal for rest, reflection and recuperation. Your zest for life is soon to increase, so enjoy it.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
It is difficult not to be totally awestruck by the truly splendid pattern which is now building up in your sign. The good news is that there is more to come, but when you are showered with opportunities, as you will soon be, you must learn to discriminate between what is worthwhile and what is not.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Astrological tradition has it that you are deeply concerned with the movement and subtle phases of Mercury. According to this planet, your mood is now to become more analytical and communicative, which should do you a power of good. Look after yourself - you deserve only the best!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Children and younger relatives need a firm hand. The stars indicate a need for authority, yet in my opinion they are a mite too inflexible. You may therefore wish to be absolutely firm as regards your principles, but judge each situation on its merits.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Financial affairs will soon require more thought. Among other things, this means that you must talk to partners about your spending plans. Tell them what you're doing and they'll almost certainly go along with you. Your romantic hopes are rising, by the way, but they may be too high to be met.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The romantic situation is looking positively rosy, although it does seem that, if one arrangement is to be confirmed, there must be a break in another. You can at least maintain an atmosphere of goodwill and cooperation with a particular person, even if your spirit has moved on.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
If you take on too many new engagements or projects, you may let yourself in for a number of false starts. It could be far better to stick with what you know and concentrate on building up your future security. Then, you'll be able to launch an adventurous initiative from a firm base.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your daily transits indicate the need to complete shopping and financial exercises first, and then discuss the relevant issues and consequences. Do yourself a favour and look for ways to make life more enjoyable. And don't be annoyed by unreliable partners or colleagues. They may not be able to help it!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You must now convey your true feelings. It may be that you will do well if you concentrate on making the right impression, but if you are to convince family members, you must have a healthy grasp of the facts. It's no use relying on them to agree with you, just because you're you!

HEALTH DEPT TALLIES INTER-DIST COVID-19 DATA EVERY MONTH

Discrepancies crop up when patients move, dept checks deaths and discharges

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Health and Family Welfare department corrects Covid-19 bulletin figures on a monthly basis as discrepancies crop up when patients move to another district after testing positive, get admitted there and pass away.

On October 5 this year, 14 deaths were recorded in the state, which means the total deaths increased from 37,832 to 37,846. However, the figure reported in the bulletin was 37,845.

A similar discrepancy was spotted on November 4, when five deaths should have taken the total from 38,091 to 38,096, but only 38,095 were reported.

In Bengaluru as well, one death was reported on November 4 which should have taken the city's toll from 16,285 to 16,286, but the reported figure was higher at 16,292.

Health officials clarified that the total figures given in the bulletin are correct, and that reconciliation is happening between districts. Explaining the situation, an official said that in some cases, the patient would have tested positive in one district (say Bengaluru) and got the Patient code (P code) against Bengaluru. The patient would have later got admitted in another district, say Tumakuru. In the event of death, Tumakuru officials would have recorded the death against Tumakuru though the P code is generated against Bengaluru.

"As this does not tally properly for Bengaluru, the department later corrects or reconciles the figures and registers the death against Bengaluru. Hence, the change is done between district figures. For the figures of November 3 and 4 for Karnataka, the deaths and discharges of 18 districts were reconciled," the official said.

For the figures of October 4 and 5, eight positive cases of Uttara Kannada and Vijayapura were exchanged by mistake, and later corrected. One of the deaths was duplicated in two districts and corrected later on. Therefore, one death was reduced for Uttara Kannada.

They reiterated that the total figures given in the daily Covid-19 bulletin are accurate.

IISc working on increasing attention span

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

A research group at the Centre for Neuroscience and the Department of Computer Science and Automation, Indian Institute of Science (IISc), are working to identify the reasons and mechanisms of attention in the human brain and see if through training, a person's attention span increases to the desired level.

This research will benefit many companies, students etc make gains on focus, learning and attention. It may also lead to a better understanding of the neural mechanisms of attention deficit in various cognitive disorders such as attention deficit disorder (ADD) and autism.

"Extensive research has revealed that paying attention produces diverse effects on individual neurons and neural populations in the brain. However, little is known about the mechanisms by which these effects emerge, and whether these are causally linked to behaviour.

"The research seeks to identify the causal role of specific brain regions and brain oscillations in attention," said Dr Sridharan Devarajan, Assistant Professor, Department of Computer Science and Automation, and chief scientist of the research. He is among the 17 in the country to be granted the Swarnajayanthi fellowship by the Centre for this research.

Dr Sridharan says human attention is such that when there is an important conversation between two individuals, even in a crowded area, the brain can pay attention to something important and ignore information that is not relevant.

"How does it do that, is the general objective of the research," he said.

However, the scientists will delve a bit deeper by using slightly sophisticated brain machine interfaces to understand attention more deeply.

Subjects will be trained to control brain activity or oscillations (shifts) in specific brain areas and check if such neuro feedback control affects attention behaviourally. Once this is studied and achieved, the person can be given attention tasks. The research is said to most benefit those who have ADD, establishments/facilities dealing with such people and even healthy individuals. "This mechanism can be used by normally healthy people too. They could absorb even better abilities to pay attention. In the West, there are certain medications or drugs which allow them to focus better and study. But the side-effects are not known. But technology like this will be much safer as there is no injecting any external substance going into the body," he said.

The study is expected to complete in the next two to three years.

Bengaluru: Two days after active Covid-19 cases dipped in the state, they again increased from 7,955 to 8,027. In Bengaluru, active cases have been on the rise for the past three days, currently standing at 6,567. There were 328 new cases reported on Wednesday, which took the state tally to 29,90,856. In the capital, 176 cases took the city tally to 12,53,353. ENS

TESTS FOR KIDS

Guidelines based on TAC report

SOURCES said that the state government will soon issue an order with revised testing norms for children.

"The child will be preferably tested by RAT (Rapid Antigen Test), and if it is negative then RT-PCR (Reverse Transcription-Polymerase Chain Reaction) test will be done as per existing Indian Council for Medical Research (ICMR) norms," a senior doctor, part of the TAC who attended the meeting where the guidelines were finalised, said. "The norms have been changed and recommendations given in terms of age, frequency and numbers."

Dr Srikanta JT, Consultant-Paediatric Interventional Pulmonology and Sleep Medicine, Aster CMI Hospital, and member of the state Covid committee set up to tackle the third wave, said, "After schools reopened in the state, we found cluster cases at a school in Chikkaballapura, but so far no such cases have been reported in Bengaluru. Many private schools have offered the hybrid option (online/offline classes) for parents and they have been trained to follow safety precautions even after children reach home. These things will surely help in controlling Covid cases in schools. But considering that this is not enough, experts recommended random testing of children to ensure we keep a close watch and not let clusters form in schools."

He said influenza-like illness in children has become a major concern as there is an increase in kids with these symptoms and many of them needing admission to ICUs.

CM dares Cong as Bitcoin barbs fly thick and fast

Says Oppn should provide whatever info they have to probe agency

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ON a day Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai was in New Delhi to meet the party bosses, the multi-crore 'Bitcoin scam' created ripples in the political circles back home. While some Opposition leaders went to the extent of predicting that Bommai may have to step down, the CM took aim at the Congress saying that leaders of that party too are involved in the alleged scam, which the Enforcement Directorate is probing.

To a query from reporters in Delhi, the CM clarified that the party leadership had not sought any report on the bitcoin issue at all.

Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee president D K Shivakumar said his party leaders have been collecting information with regard to the Bitcoin transactions and insisted that the CM should reveal about the investigation. "Information regarding whose wallet the seized Bitcoins have gone to, and who are involved, should be made public. We will put forth the information we have before the people, let the BJP government furnish it to the court of law," he demanded.

Reacting to this, the CM said, "Anyways, the ED probe is on and we are open to a probe by any agency. Let the Opposition leaders provide information with regard to whatever illegal transactions have taken place and those involved. We will not let the accused go scotfree, whoever they may be," he stressed.

Opposition leader in the Assembly, Siddaramaiah, tweeted urging the CM to reveal the names of politicians and officials who had 'quietly' swindled money in Bitcoin scam and to take action against them. "The CM should stop issuing vague statements that even Congress leaders are involved in it. He should reveal their names names and take action," he insisted.

With a tinge of sarcasm, Bommai noted that Siddaramaiah should act responsibly as a leader of the Opposition before making baseless allegations against the government.

In Kalaburagi, KPCC spokesperson Priyank Kharge, who is former IT/BT minister, predicted that Bommai will have to give up office as a fallout of the Bitcoin scam. "If an impartial and transparent inquiry is conducted, the truth will come out within a month. The question is whether the government is interested in punishing the guilty or not," he told reporters. He also demanded the government take action against the accused, irrespective of party allegiance.

Though he initially refused to react, Bommai later remarked, "I will not react to the likes of Priyank Kharge who do not have correct information about it, and I pity him for that. He should worry more about his own party leaders' names cropping up in the scam," he warned.

Former deputy CM Dr G Parameshwara was more guarded and said it is too early to predict a change of guard since there was no evidence of the Bommai family's involvement in the alleged scam.

On the other hand, JDS leader and former CM H D Kumaraswamy accused both the national parties of trying to hush up the case. "The scam came to light when Siddaramaiah was CM. It surfaced during 2017-18 and, if action was taken then, it would not have taken the shape of a scam," he remarked. He also added that Prime Minister Narendra Modi will have all the information with regard to the alleged scam.

Unnamed petition to PM on Bitcoin scam surfaces

Bengaluru: In the midst of an escalating political storm in the state, an anonymous petition, addressed to the Prime Minister, has surfaced on the 'Bitcoin nexus in Bengaluru and international frauds involving government machinery and politicians.' The unsigned petition, marked to the PMO, National Security Adviser, Directorate of Enforcement and the Intelligence Bureau, makes wild and sweeping allegations against some prominent politicians in the state, police officers including some senior IPS officers for their alleged involvement in corruption and the Bitcoin scam perpetrated by Srikrishna alias Sriki, who was arrested last year by the CCB in a drugs case. He was recently arrested in a pub brawl case and released on bail on Wednesday. "The petition is mischievous and written by someone with vested interests. The fact that it is unsigned speaks about the veracity of the document," said sources. The city police and ED have reportedly maintained that no Bitcoins were found with Srikrishna and that the Bitcoin exchanges involved had not maintained KYC norms, making it nearly impossible to track the Bitcoins that Srikrishna may have traded through the exchanges. # Leaders bank on Siddu to promote kids

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Bengaluru

THE victory in Hanagal and a fairly good show at Sindagi in the recently held bypolls have given traction to many Congress leaders to push their children into electoral politics during the 2023 Assembly polls.

Already, disgruntled JDS MLA GT Devegowda, who has hinted that he would join Congress, has been cozying up to his nemesis-turned-ally Congress Legislature Party leader Siddarmaiah with the aim of finding an electoral battleground for his son GD Harish Gowda and furthering his own career.

Devegowda and Siddaramaiah shared the dais at a recent event, which is a clear enough indication of Devegowda's willingness to join the Grand Old Party, well ahead of the Assembly polls, political observers noted.

Devegowda is miffed that he was snubbed by JDS when he sought a ticket for Harish from the KR Nagar constituency, which is represented by its veteran leader Sa Ra Mahesh.

Former minister TB Jayachandra too is said to be keen on finding a seat for his elder son Sanjay after his younger son Santosh lost the CN Halli seat in Tumakuru district in 2018. Congress leader KN Rajanna also wants a ticket for his son Rajendra from Tumakuru in the Legislative Council elections that were announced on Tuesday, party sources said.

Jayachandra and Rajanna, who are part of the coterie around Siddarmaiah, depend on the Congress Legislature Party leader to find a political future for their children.

With BJP restricting its members who have crossed 75 years of age from contesting elections and stopping them from promoting their family members, many leaders are expected to cross over to Congress ahead of the 2023 Assembly polls, observed political analyst Sagheer Ahmed.

Asked whether it is in Congress culture to establish their children politically, a senior leader said that the question should be posed to KPCC president DK Shivakumar.

> Family politics exists in BJP too. There are many examples, but the party acts hypocritically. KPCC president DK Shivakumar will take a decision on giving tickets to leaders and their sons

BJP aims to bag 13-15 Legislative Council seats

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Davangere/Chitradurga

KARNATAKA BJP general secretary Mahesh Tenginkayi on Wednesday claimed that the party will win 13-15 seats in the upcoming Legislative Council polls from local bodies. Elections for 25 seats are set to be held on December 10.

Addressing media persons, he said that the party, which won only six seats last time, will bolster its tally. "There is no doubt that the 45,000 gram panchayat members, who are also BJP grassroots workers, will ensure the victory of party candidates in the elections. The Jan Swaraj Yatra (rally), to be held from November 18 to 21, will mobilise GP members and ensure that the convention helps in the victory of party candidates," he added.

The Jan Swaraj Yatra will be led by four teams which will tour different parts of the state. The first team, comprising state BJP chief Nalin Kumar Kateel, Union minister Bhagavant Khuba, state ministers V Somanna, Araga Jnanendra and Murugesh Nirani will tour the six districts of Kalyana-Karnataka.

The second team will be led by former CM B S Yediyurappa, Union minister Pralhad Joshi, state ministers B Sriramulu and Govinda Karjol. They will tour the eight districts of Kittur Karnataka. The third team will have Union minister Shobha Karandlaje, former Union minister D V Sadananda Gowda, ministers K S Eshwarappa, R Ashoka, ST Somashekar and Halappa Achar. They will cover nine districts in Old Mysuru Region.

The fourth team with Union Minister A Narayanaswamy, former CM Jagadish Shettar, ministers Dr C N Ashwath Narayan, Byrathi Basavaraj and Gopalaiah, and BJP vice-president B Y Vijayendra will tour the remaining seven districts of Davangere-Chitradurga (Nov 18), Tumakuru-Ramanagara (Nov 19), Kolar-Chikkaballapur (No -20) and Bengaluru Rural-Bengaluru City (Nov 21).

On the selection of candidates for the elections, Mahesh said five teams have been formed for the purpose. "The teams collected opinion from elected local body members and submitted them to party state president Nalin Kumar Kateel, who has forwarded the report on potential candidates to the party top brass, which will finalise the list within a couple of days.

Earlier, a meeting of party office-bearers and workers in connection with the Jan Swaraj Yatra was also held.

STATE GOVT TO GIVE BIG PUSH TO PENDING RAIL PROJECTS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

STEPS will be taken to complete the eight railway projects in Karnataka, commissioned over a decade ago, on priority and the government is ready to grant its share of funds, announced Housing and Infrastructure Development Minister V Somanna on Wednesday.

After holding a review of projects with officials of the Railways, the Karnataka Infrastructure Development Corporation (KIDC) and others, the minister told reporters that due to the delay in implementation of the projects, commissioned in 2007, the cost has escalated and no more new projects could be taken up.

"These have become a financial burden to both the Centre and the State. However, we will take them up immediately after sorting out land acquisition and other issues. They will be completed within a time frame as there is no dearth of funds. We will release our share of grants and, if the Centre also does its part, it will help speed up the process," he said.

> These have become a financial burden to both the Centre and the State. However, we will take them up immediately after sorting out land acquisition and other issues. They will be completed within a time frame as there is no dearth of funds
>
> V Somanna, Housing Minister

The eight projects includes the Munirabad-Mehbubnagar, Tumakuru-Raidurg, Tumakuru-Davanagere, Shivamogga-Shikaripura-Ranebennur, Chikkamanagalur-Belur, Belur-Hassan and Dharwad-Belagavi railway lines.

He said that all issues related to the projects will be sorted out in 15-20 days, and a time frame will be set up for their completion, besides holding monthly review meetings to take stock of their progress. As many as 56 railway underbridges (RUBs) will be completed in this financial year itself, the minister hoped.

"Priority will also be given to complete the works on airports in Shivamogga, Vijayapura, Hassan and Raichur and a civil enclave at Karwar besides pending works at the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) in Bengaluru," he said.

'Bommai is shrewd'

Somanna observed that Chief Minister Basavaraja Bommai has been running the administration shrewdly, and releasing the necessary grants for development works.

On the Bitcoin row, he advised Congress leaders, including Priyank Kharge, to issue statements responsibly and only if they had authenticated information.

On the bypolls, Sommana remarked, "If I had been sent to Hanagal three days earlier, I would have ensured the BJP's victory by 10,000 votes." The minister had intensively campaigned in Sindhagi where the BJP won.

'Will discuss water rows with lawyers'

"WE expect the project to be cleared in the next meeting. I will meet senior lawyers on Thursday and will discuss Cauvery, Mekedaatu and Krishna river disputes," he added.

Slamming Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah for alleging that senior politicians and their families are involved in the Bitcoin scam, Bommai said, "He holds a responsible position and should make allegations with proof. We have already handed over the case to Enforcement Directorate, who are probing. We are open to any inquiry and there is no question of a cover-up, even if big names are involved," he asserted. Asked if the BJP high command has sought a report on the controversy, he replied in the negative.

'Basu's decision to put Gowda in PM's chair'

CONGRESS did withdraw support 11 months later, cutting short Gowda's run as Prime Minister.

The book captures Gowda's thinking before he accepted the PM's post. "Don't we all know what Congress did to Charan Singh, VP Singh and Chandrashekar? Will they spare me? Please, change your mind. I also have no felicity in Hindi and have not travelled the length and breadth of this country. You are our elder, I beg you," Gowda is said to have appealed to Basu.

"When I saw he was unwilling to listen, I touched his feet and requested him to accept my argument," Gowda is quoted as saying in the book. So much so, Basu told him, "Mr Gowda, do I go out and tell the people of India that we have no secular alternative to Vajpayee? Can we put out an advertisement in the newspaper for a secular Prime Minister?"

Author Srinivasaraju, who has been tracking political developments in the country for decades, told The New Indian Express that it was the conscious decision of Basu and then General Secretary of Communist Party of India (Marxist) Harkishan Singh Surjit to put Gowda in the PM's chair, and it was their acknowledgement of Gowda's administrative capabilities.

He travelled in an open jeep in J&K

> Prime Ministers don't do this. They want to be protected all the time. Vehicles are flown in for them. But Gowda-saab always moved around with minimal protection. He was a brave chap. The Valley would have changed if he had been around longer
>
> Army Commander Lt Gen Dhillon on Gowda's request for an open-jeep ride

THE book highlights Gowda's desire and intent to resolve India-Pakistan issues and how he had established a diplomatic back channel with then Pakistan Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif through Dr LH Hiranandani, an ENT Surgeon from Mumbai who had treated Gowda and was a friend of Sharif's father.

During his second visit to Jammu and Kashmir on August 5, 1996, Gowda wanted to go in an open-top jeep from the Rajouri airport to the town, but Army Commander Lt Gen Dhillon was concerned. He told Gowda, "If I do something like this, the country will hang me, sir." Gowda replied, "Nothing will happen, don't worry. You drive and I'll sit next to you. Assume somebody lobs a grenade; both of us will die. Where is the question of you being hanged?"

Lt Gen Dhillon, during his interview with the author on December 4, 2019, said he was surprised by Gowda's request for an open-jeep ride. "Prime Ministers don't do this. They want to be protected all the time. Vehicles are flown in for them. But Gowda-saab always moved around with minimal protection. He was a brave chap. The Valley would have changed if he had been around longer."

The book highlights how he intervened in the budget presented by Finance Minister P Chidambaram, his letters to Vajpayee expressing strong views on violence in Gujarat in 2002, secret files about prominent political personalities that were kept by PV Narasimha Rao and passed on to Gowda's PMO and his equation with senior Congress leaders as well as with current Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Women to lead way for clean villages

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

WOMEN will play a greater role at the panchayat level to help keep villages clean while also enabling them to be self-reliant. The Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR) Department has stressed on the need to include self-help/women's groups in solid waste management at the village level and interested women will also be given training to drive garbage collection autos.

The RDPR Department, in association with the Mahatma Gandhi Institute of Rural Energy and Development, Department of Rural Drinking Water and Sanitation and the National Rural Livelihood Mission (NRLM), is training 18,000 members of self-help groups. Women are already part of the waste collection system in many villages. Like in urban areas, waste is collected thrice a week from each houseold in villages.

In an order, the RDPR Department has directed the panchayats to identify women's self-help groups or Gram Panchayat Level Federation (GPLF) groups under the National Rural Livelihood Mission for disposing of garbage in villages. These groups will be given training, right from creating awareness on garbage segreation at source, collecting waste from the doorstep till processing waste scientifically.

These identified groups will be given training at the Abdul Nazir Sab State Institute Of Rural Development in Mysuru or through allied NGOs at other district centres. After the training, the Chief Executive Officer of the Zilla Panchayat and the selected groups will sign a memorandum of understanding. The officals will explain the duties and responsibility to the groups on garbage disposal.

The order also stressed that gram panchayats will have to provide financial aid till the groups which manage garbage become self-sufficient. They can collect a fee from each houseold for garbage collection and this should used for garbage disposal and management. The panchayats have to encourage women's self-help groups and ensure that they become financially independent. They also have to identify land for processing of waste and allot it to these groups. The women's groups have also been told to involve ragpickers to collect dry waste.

Waste which has to be burnt should be converted into refuse-derived fuel and sold to cement factories and other industries.

A 19-year-old teenager died by suicide, after hanging himself in Rajarajeshwari Nagar police station limits. The deceased has been identified as Yogesh, a resident of BEML Layout. Police said, "The incident came to light in the morning, as the family found him hung to the fan."

Ambulance tenders: HC irked by delay

The court pulled up K'taka for not acting sooner

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA High Court on Wednesday expressed displeasure over the Karnataka government's delay in giving approval for inviting tenders for state-of-the-art ambulance service system in the state.

IN THE HC

"We cannot appreciate the manner in which the state government is proceeding in providing emergency medical ambulances with GPS systems, although it is of the utmost important in the public interest", said a division bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum, while granting 10 days time to the state government to respond.

The court noted that in the video order dated August 31, 2021, the permission to the state for approval of fresh tender from the cabinet was accorded. However, Additional Government Advocate couldn't explain why the matter has not been placed before the cabinet for approval. He asked for 10 days to seek instructions in the matter.

Sriki terms Bitcoin case nuisance, bogus

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE@Bengaluru

NOTORIOUS hacker Sri Krishna alias Sriki, who is at the centre of Bitcoin scam, said the case is "bogus and a nuisance".

Sriki, who was arrested by the Jeevan Bima Nagar police on November 6 in connection with an assault case at a star hotel, was released from the Bengaluru Central Prison in Parappana Agrahara on Wednesday, after a city court granted him bail.

When reporters asked him about his involvement in the Bitcoin scam, Sriki said, "There is nothing to say. It's just nuisance and bogus." Asked why his name is being linked with politicians, he said, "I don't know." To a query on the police seizing Bitcoins worth Rs 9 crore from him, he said, "It's all bogus news. I don't know anything about this."

On testing positive for drug consumption, he said he had nothing to say and alleged media is creating a ruckus and it should stop.

Sriki was first arrested by the CCB on November 18, 2020. He fell into the net when the police were chasing a case related to importing psychotropic drugs using the Darknet. The police found that Sriki had hacked several websites, including the e-procurement site of the Karnataka government. A detailed probe revealed that he had hacked 17 websites and the police seized Bitcoins worth Rs 9 crore based on his information.

Guard stabs building secy

ENS @Bengaluru

A 65-year-old secretary of an apartment association was stabbed to death by the security guard for allegedly scolding him to do his job better. The guard is now in police custody. The incident took place in AECS Layout in HAL police station limits on Wednesday morning. The deceased has been identified as Bhaskar Reddy.

"The accused Basant (25) had joined as a security guard a few months ago, and Reddy had complained about his work on several occasions. On Wednesday, Reddy scolded him as the basement was allegedly unclean. Basant picked up a knife and attacked him in the basement," police said.

CBI must probe lockup death case: T'gana HC

ENS @ Hyderabad

THE High Court of Telangana on Wednesday directed the handover of the Mariyamma case to the CBI. Mariyamma was found dead in Addagurudu Police Station lockup in Rachakonda Police Commissionerate.

The high court also asked the Superintendent of Police, CBI to be present by the next date of hearing on November 22.

The Division Bench headed by Chief Justice Satish Chandra Sharma ordered Advocate General, Telangana, B.S. Prasad to hand over the complete set of case files to Assistant Solicitor General (ASG) Namavarapu Rajeshwar Rao.

During the course of hearing, the Chief Justice questioned the Advocate General over what action has been initiated against the erring police officials who were responsible for Mariyamma's death, to which the response was a dismissal of one sub-inspector and a constable.

Not satisfied with the explanation, the court asked what criminal action has been initiated, to which the counsel noted that Mariyamma's family was duly compensated.

Moderate rain, but Chennai streets flooded

Many citizens move from their houses to hotels

NIRUPAMA VISWANATHAN @ Chennai

DESPITE not seeing much rain for two days, some parts of the city remained waterlogged even as the next bout of heavy rains began on Wednesday. Parts of areas like Ashok Nagar, T Nagar, Pulianthope and West Mambalam continued to remain inundated even though the city received comparatively less rainfall for two days. The rains on Wednesday evening only added to the woes of residents.

Latha R, a 67-year-old resident of Anna Nagar 18th avenue, had shifted out of her apartment with her 71-year-old husband to a hotel. In her apartment that has 16 houses, everyone except two families have moved out. "My husband has to undergo dialysis so we could not take the risk of staying at our apartment. If water has not drained in the two days that saw little rain, you can imagine how it's going to be when it rains heavily again through the week," said Latha.

Knee-deep water was seen in 18th, 19th and 16th avenues despite the city corporation's efforts to pump out water. The area has remained without electricity for the past three days.

Although corporation staff on the field have been attempting to drain out the water using high-capacity pumps, they have not been successful. Corporation officials said the water had to drain into the Adyar through a drain near Kasi theatre. "The drain constructed by the Highways Department is old and unable to accept the run off," said an official.

Not far away in KK Nagar, roads had caved in at Anna Main Road and MGR Nagar. Officials said an almost 30 ft sewage line had leaked, causing the road to cave in under the pressure of heavy vehicles.

Tree felling stopped, warden suspended

ENS @ T'Puram

INITIATING a damage control exercise, the Kerala cabinet on Wednesday, cancelled the order issued by the chief wildlife warden on November 5 approving the request of Tamil Nadu to cut 15 trees in the 40 cents of land, downstream Mullaperiyar for strengthening the baby dam.

The order was frozen by the forest minister on November 7, as the decision triggered a political storm in the state.

After the cabinet meeting, Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan suspended the Chief Wildlife Warden Bennichan Thomas, who is among the senior most IFS officers in the state.

The suspension followed the complaint raised by Forest Minister AK Saseendran, that he was kept in the dark regarding the move.

Though Bennichan promptly conveyed the decision to additional chief secretary (water resources) and principal secretary (forest and wildlife), the disciplinary action was initiated against him.

Sources said the role of the secretaries in finalizing the decision was not proved beyond doubt.

Chief Secretary VP Joy briefed the cabinet about the legal and technical issues in the order.

He said the order wouldn't stand legal scrutiny. The legal advice of advocate general also favoured cancelling the order.

"The order has been issued without obtaining clearances mandated by the union government. In an affidavit submitted before the Supreme Court on January 22, it has been mentioned clearly that permission of Ministry of Forest and Environment and Climate Change and permission from National Wildlife Board standing committee were required for cutting trees from the region," said a press release.

Baby elephant named after Puneeth

RAMACHANDRA V GUNARI @ Shivamogga

IT was very tough time for Nethra, a mother elephant, when her baby elephant was weaned from her at Sakrebailu elephant camp on Wednesday. The separated baby elephant was named after Puneeth Rajkumar, who visited the camp just a month before his demise.

On Wednesday morning, the weaning operation commenced around 11 am in the presence of DCF Nagaraj, veterinary doctor Vinay and other the forest department authorities and lasted for about two hours. Later, the baby elephant was formally named after Puneeth Rajkumar and everyone gathered around cheered for little "Appu".

Revealing about the weaning procedure to the media, Deputy Conservator of Forest (Wildlife) Nagaraj said: "In our camp it is a tradition that the baby elephant is weaned from its mother once it turns two years old. However, this time, as the rainy season extended till October, the weaning procedure was delayed by three more months.

Earlier, we used to tie the baby elephant inside the forest area and bring the mother to the camp site. For the first time, we have brought the baby elephant into the camp site and tied the mother about 2 kms inside the forest at the old kraal place. Usually, baby elephant will create disturbance for about 8-10 days after separation. Even the mother is isolated from the baby for the same number of days or more in some cases. This depends on how both mother and baby elephant behave during this period."

Puneeth fan scales 3k ft hill, pledges to do social service

Chikkamagaluru: It is almost 13 days after the untimely demise of star Puneeth Rajkumar, but various incidents showcasing the dedication of his fans continue to hog limelight across the State. Raju runs a small canteen near the SriLekha talkies in Chikkamagaluru. He has been an ardent fan of Puneeth and never missed his movies. His friends call him 'Appu Ravi'. He used to sing Kannada film songs.

Why weaning is done

"It is a tradition of the camp because of the increasing mischievousness of the baby elephant. If it gets delayed further, then it is much difficult to tame the elephant. So, the forest department authorities take up this weaning procedure once the baby elephant completes two years," said Nagaraj DCF.

Naming ceremony

This baby elephant was named after Punith Rajkumar and all the forest department authorities including mahouts, kavadis and local villagers named this baby elephant 'Appu'.

DCF Nagaraj said: "It is a tradition of this camp to name the baby elephant after weaning it. Puneeth Rajkumar visited the camp before his demise".

Swamy has not received his pension for the last five months

Pension, ration for disabled person halted

ENS @ Kakinada

AN 85-year-old disabled person, Yerramsetti Veera Swamy from Lankala Gannavaram, of East Godavari district has not received his pension from the last five months, since the introduction of KYC. He has also not received his ration since the past four years.

The reason being that he is unable to complete the E-KYC process after losing both his arms in an accident at a firecracker manufacturing site. Since every beneficiary needs a thumb impression to get ration, he is unable to claim his share for his family of 3.

Swamy's family has been struggling, surviving only on the disabled pension, which also stopped five months ago. After numerous appeals, the family visited MPDO official, Isukapatla Immanuel Kumar, who escalated the matter to higher officials.

Kerala cops arrest two top Naxals from K'taka

ENS @Chikkamagaluru

NAXAL duo BG Krishnamurthy and Savitri, wanted by the police in three states, were arrested by the Kerala police on Tuesday at the Sultan Batheri, in the border between Bandipur in Karnataka and Waynad in Kerala. Both were produced before the sessions court in Kerala.

District police superintendent said, "After local legal procedures in Kerala, the accused will be brought to the district."

Background

As per sources, BG Krishna Murthy, who hailed from Bukkadibail in Sringeri taluk , did his graduation in JCBM college, Sringeri and LLB from Shivamogga. During his college days, he was inspired by Maoist principles. In 2000, the anti-Kudremukh National Park struggle was at its peak, during which he joined the naxal outfit. Since then, he has been undergoing, also giving his father, Gopala Rao's funeral a miss.

The Naxal leader BG Krishna-Murthy (48) and his accomplices shifted their activity to Kerala. He has had 43 cases filed against him in various states, and Savitri (36), has 22 cases against her.

PADMA AWARDS FOR THE UNSUNG ACHIEVERS OF INDIA

What do little-known environmentalist Tulsi Gowda, transgender folk dancer Matha B Manjamma, octogenarian Mohammed Sharif and street vendor Harekala Hajabba have in common with the late ministers in the Narendra Modi government, Sushma Swaraj and Arun Jaitley, or celebrities such as Kangana Ranaut and Adnan Sami? All of them are recipients of the latest edition of the Padma awards, among the most prestigious civilian honours in the country. Gowda has planted more than 30,000 saplings in her native village, Manjamma battled poverty and abuse to become a folk dancer, Sharif has performed the last rites of thousands of unclaimed dead bodies, and Hajabba set up a school for underprivileged children with his meagre savings from selling oranges on the road.

Until 2017, Gowda, Manjamma, Sharif and Hajabba, to name just a few of the ordinary and unknown citizens who won the Padma awards this year, would never have dreamt of rubbing shoulders with the country's elite in the ornate and cavernous halls of Rashtrapati Bhawan. That year, the government launched a website to receive nominations for the awards, making the exercise transparent. But more than the nomination itself, the government changed the selection process, expanding the bouquet of recipients outside the usual politicians, bureaucrats, celebrities, Lutyens' courtiers and lobbyists to include ordinary do-gooders and change-makers. In effect, the year marked the beginning of the democratisation of the Padma awards.

Until now, it was well known in Delhi's elite circles that other than the real achievers, months of lobbying, networking and under-the-table dealings could land one the Padma awards. The credit for this rather revolutionary shift has to be given to the current government. In providing a level playing field, the Centre has given due recognition to the work of those in the margins. Law minister Kiren Rijiju was not off the mark when he tweeted after the presentation ceremony that the awards could now be called the People's Padma. No wonder the loudest applause was reserved for the likes of Gowda, who received her honour barefooted and clad in traditional attire.

PADDY IN T'GANA & A PROBLEM OF PLENTY

As a major agrarian crisis stares at Telangana, the ruling TRS and opposition BJP are involved in a blame game rather than helping the farmer. Interestingly, the problem is on account of bountiful production as there are better irrigation facilities for the farmers now than in the past.

Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao argues that the Centre has abdicated its responsibility of procuring all the raw rice produced in the state during kharif. On top of this, he faults the Centre for saying that it would not take rabi paddy in future on the grounds that it yields parboiled rice, which has no demand. But Tourism Minister G Kishan Reddy, who represents Telangana in the Union Cabinet, denies that the Centre had said it would not buy all the kharif paddy and asserts that it would procure all the raw rice for which it signs an MoU every year. For the 2021-22 kharif, the state had signed an MoU for 40 lakh tonnes in August but in October, the state had inflated the figure to 108 lakh tonnes, which he says is very unrealistic. The state now has the unenviable task of asking farmers to switch to other crops in the rabi season beginning in December, which is sure to result in a political backlash. If it does not, it would lead to a bigger problem as the farmers would be saddled with rabi rice, which would have no takers. Either way, the TRS government would be in the soup. That is probably why KCR is deftly turning the anger of farmers towards the Centre as he knows paddy is a powder keg that can go off at any time.

There is no gain from pointing fingers. It is time now for both the Centre and the state to come together and find a solution to the problem in the changed demand-supply scenario. As the Centre has advised, the state could help rice millers modernise their equipment to convert rabi paddy into raw rice or ask the farmers to go in for alternative crops in rabi or do both. In their anxiety to escape the wrath of the farmers, both the TRS and the BJP seem more interested in blaming each other, conveniently overlooking their immediate responsibility of saving the cultivators from the impending calamity.

While the domestic economy seems to be under macro-control, India needs to guard against external macro-developments that have the potential to hit economic bounceback

BEWARE OF THREATS THAT CAN DERAIL INDIA'S RECOVERY

SOUMYADIP SINHA

TULSI JAYAKUMAR

Professor, Economics & Chairperson, Family Managed Business at Bhavan's SPJIMR

India appears to be on the path to recovery, as Diwali festival sales around the country seem to attest. The Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT) announced an overall sale of ₹1.25 lakh crore during the festival—a record sales figure in the last 10 years as per the traders' body announcement made a day after Diwali.

Consumption aside, industrial production too has witnessed growth. The quick estimates of the Index of Industrial Production reveal a 11.9% growth in August 2021 over the corresponding period last year, while the manufacturing sector has grown by 9.7%. The manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) at 53.7 and the services Purchasing Managers' Index at 55.2 in September 2021 indicate optimism regarding economic activity.

The Consumer Price Index-based retail inflation at 4.35% in September 2021 was not only a whole percentage point below its level in August 2021, but was also the lowest inflation rate in India since January 2021.

As regards the external sector, India recorded a surplus on its current account of 0.9% of GDP. The current account surplus recorded seems robust, coming as it did through a contraction in the trade deficit, increase in net service receipts and increase in remittances from Indians employed overseas, along with a decline in the net overseas investment income payments. To add to the current account surplus, high Foreign Direct Investments (FDI) and Foreign Portfolio investments (FPIs) ensured that India added $31.9 billion to its foreign exchange reserves in September 2021.

While the domestic economy seems to be well under macro-control, India would need to guard against external macro-developments that have the potential to derail recovery. We consider three such developments that could impact India, together with the channels through which such impact is likely to be experienced.

1. Higher global inflation: Both advanced economies (AEs) and emerging market economies have been experiencing higher inflationary pressures due primarily to elevated commodity and fuel prices. Central banks of both sets of economies have consequently started tightening their monetary policies to address such inflation. This has had the impact of increasing global bond yields, especially those of AEs, including the US. Higher bond yields have the potential to adversely affect India through multiple channels. One, the flow of capital into India's stock markets through the FPI route would be affected, since global investors would find it more lucrative to invest in AE bonds, affecting India's balance of payments. FPI is not the most desirable form of capital flow because of its volatility; but FPI when into equity does constitute a desirable capital flow. Two, it would lead to a depreciation of the rupee, with its attendant risks of making our imports even costlier. Three, companies that depend on external borrowings would find their borrowing costs higher, affecting their returns. More importantly, a depreciation of the rupee would further weaken their position since borrowings in US dollars would pinch them harder.

2. Economic Recovery in America: The US reported less than 300,000 jobless claims filed in the week ending October 9—the lowest since the beginning of the pandemic. Such figures, together with its inflation data that showed a 13-year high of 5.4% in September 2021, point towards economic recovery in the US. The latest development of America passing a $1 trillion infrastructure bill to ramp up its highway, broadband and infrastructure is likely to aid US recovery further, creating jobs and boosting that country's competitiveness.

India's two-way trade with China in 2021 was substantially higher than pre-Covid levels and is expected to cross $100 billion by the year end. So the slowdown there could hit our country

Prospects of a recovery have already led the US to announce its decision to start winding up some of its emergency stimulus measures introduced to tackle the pandemic-led recession, starting with the tapering of its monthly bond-buying programme. In October, the US Federal Reserve had indicated that such tapering may commence from mid-November, with the Fed cutting its $120 billion per month bond buys slowly. The Fed indicated recently that it would start by cutting $10 billion a month in Treasury bond and $5 billion a month in mortgage-backed securities—a total reduction of $15 billion per month. Such recovery and the resultant tapering would also affect US bond yields. The bond yields have already risen from 0.91% at the beginning of 2021 to 1.549 % in November 2021. The US tapering is likely to harden bond yields further, with its attendant results for India.

3. Chinese slowdown: China's GDP growth in Q3 2021-22 slowed to 4.9%, which was below the 5.2% forecast. With the massive fuel crunch that is affecting the country's growth, the systemic crisis in its real estate and construction sectors, and the government's crackdown on top companies in order to address income inequalities and make firms fall in line, business sentiments and consequently growth have suffered. The Chinese slowdown could hit India through the trade channel, given that New Delhi's two-way trade with Beijing in 2021 was substantially higher than the pre-pandemic levels. Bilateral trade with China was up by 29.7% in the first nine months of 2021, compared with the same period in 2019. India's exports increased far more (by 64.5%) compared to its imports, which rose by 21.5%. In fact, India's trade with China is expected to cross the $100 billion mark by the end of 2021. Even for China, the growth in trade with India has been among the fastest compared to its other major trading partners.

These global macro-developments, with their potential for spillovers and spillbacks, will have to be cautiously monitored by Indian policymakers and factored into policymaking, even as they pursue their goal of "maintaining price stability while keeping in mind ... growth".

FROM SPACE TO CONSCIOUSNESS: INDIC ARCHITECTURE – I

SHONALEEKA KAUL

Associate Professor, Centre for Historical Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University

Part of a quest for a culturally rooted practice of architecture is asking fundamental questions such as what did the act of building truly mean? 'Architecture', from the Greek architecton ('prime builder'), is fundamentally articulated space. Or, as Aldo van Eyck evocatively called it, "outlined emptiness", the outlining performed via the action of building, which encloses and contains space.

In Indic conceptions, however, right from the first millennium BCE, the word for space is akasha, which implies vastness, transcendence and a phenomenon as all-encompassing as the sky. Clearly then, space as akasha was the opposite of anything finite, bounded or enclosed. So in this understanding, architecture would be the paradoxical attempt to limit the limitless, enclose the unenclosable. Which begs the question: Is architecture a contradiction in terms?

And yet, humankind has been building and enclosing space for millennia. So what does this transition from the unlimited to the limited, from the transcendent to the contingent, do to space? In generating an interior and an exterior, does building not also generate an artificial divide and duality or splitting asunder of experience? In forcing a separation between the world within and without, and ushering within the built interiors the bulk of our activities, has civilisation and its prime force, architecture, contracted and narrowed down rather than expanded our lives and our sense of reality? This is a question of both physics and metaphysics. Ultimately, however, it is perhaps a question of ethics: What is the practice of architecture meant to effect in human terms? A separation or a continuum? A split or equipoise? Alienation or belonging?

These are questions that have agitated the minds of some thinker-architects in the West like van Eyck and Christopher Alexander, who perceived a growing crisis of mindlessness and disembeddedness in contemporary architecture, and went on to exhort a style of construction that felt like a built homecoming, "places where we can be what we really are", or that tapped into the eternal truth in the ordinary and every day.

In doing so, these architects rightly apprehended the connection between the surrounding built environment and the psycho-social life of the individual. They believed in the transformative potential of architecture in facilitating the overcoming of contradictions that people and indeed societies felt within themselves, and their attainment of a relaxed equipoise instead. They emphasised the overcoming of dualities—the forced separation of interior from exterior—as the key to wholesome and harmonious buildings and communities.

These issues are as relevant to modern India where building appears to be a heedless, profiteering business. Indian urban architecture today displays an overwhelming functionalism and monotony, apart from a confused poverty of form—the predominant impression one gets from the mushrooming jungle of skyscraper-slums that the urban core and peripheries alike have become. While there is nothing wrong with function and it is a necessary and sufficient impetus for building, the question really is what is the nature of function that is aimed at. Is it that of mere utility or is it that of purpose, a "lasting human validity"; the two are vastly different in terms of their social and spiritual potential.

What may ancient history tell us in this regard? Scholars speak of two broad functions performed by public architecture: sacred and secular. To these the great temples and stupas of early India and the cities and palaces, respectively, can be assigned. However, this binary is itself a separation imposed by European modernity, which expects the sacred nowadays to have a minimal role and the secular, perhaps, minimal soul. This may not be quite how the ancients thought. They professed perhaps far more integrated life-goals.

It is to make manifest a culturally validated idea of reality that most knowledge systems of early India strove in great epistemic unison.... Vastu texts ... were ultimately about architecture ... as meditation on the true nature of reality. Thus whether it was building an altar, a temple or a city, architecture at its highest became an instrument of liberation

In early India, form and consciousness were considered inseparable, regardless of the character of the building, and their union invested with cultural meaning and efficacy. Architecture was a self-consciously undertaken project which, like a yajna, was believed to be transformational, both for its practitioners and clientele. This two-part series draws on a couple of central concepts of space from early India, mandala and mandara, to explore how form and spirit fused synergistically with a view to transforming the individual partaker and ultimately the community.

Returning then to the concept of akasha, while retaining its essential qualities of infinitude and transcendence, it could be of three different kinds: in the middle, citakasha, mindspace that gave rise to all activity and perception; above it, paramakasha, the infinite space of nameless consciousness; and deep within, hrdayakasha, the space of the human heart. What's more, appearing to confound all notions of scale and hierarchy, paramakasha was exactly replicated in hrdayakasha, or rather it reposed deep within the latter.

In the Taittiriya Upanishad (circa 1000 BCE) this was expressed as nihitam guhayam parame vyoman: "deep within the cave [-like heart] of man lies infinite consciousness". Here was the microcosmic paradox: the secret of outermost space is to be found in the innermost! As the Chhandogya Upanishad described it: "within the city of brahman (infinite consciousness) is a small lotus flower. Within that is a still smaller space, the human heart (hrdayakasha). Within that space is the deepest truth."

In metaphysical terms, the individual atman (soul) mirrored the universal brahman (pure consciousness), and true knowledge was the realisation of their unity, or the true nature of reality was their unity. Indeed moksha (liberation) was not some other-worldly pursuit but jivan mukti (liberation in one's lifetime) or the realisation in the here and now of that state of bliss arisen from union with the infinite. Known as advaita (non-dualism), this transsectarian philosophy established itself as influential from very early, finding expression first in the Upanishads, then the syncretic Bhagavad Gita (2nd century BCE), down to Adi Shankara and Vedanta (9th century CE onwards) and the nirguna bhakti saints (14th–17th century).

Of course one does not have to be an advaitavadin to see that it is to make manifest a culturally validated idea of reality that most knowledge systems of early India strove in great epistemic unison. Architecture was no exception. Vastu texts from the first and second millennium CE, in the midst of the plethora of technical specifications they offer, were ultimately about architecture as a means to an end greater than itself—architecture as meditation on the true nature of reality. Thus whether it was building an altar, a temple or a city, architecture at its highest became an instrument of liberation.

Our unsafe hospitals

Hospitals, supposed to be a safe place for patients to recover from illnesses, have become the most unsafe (Killer blaze was waiting to happen at MP hospital, Nov 10). Political parties blame each other and enquiries are ordered, and that's it till the next blaze. Concrete steps are needed to keep hospitals safe.

N Nagarajan, Secunderabad

Deaths of newborns

There has been another killer blaze in a hospital, this time swallowing the lives of four newborns who were just one-nine days old and yet to be named by their parents. This bolt from the blue comes soon after the inferno in a Maharashtra hospital. It is criminal negligence on the part of the officials who failed to get a no-objection certificate from the fire department. No ex-gratia payment can bring back the lost children. It is high time all hospitals, both government-run and private ones, are checked by the concerned authorities for fire safety.

R Donjeba, Nazareth, Thoothukudi

Rains make us shudder

This is with reference to Just two days of rain turn city roads into obstacle course for commuters (Nov 10). Rains should bring cheer to the people, but Chennai residents shudder to even think of them. Besides inundating streets including main roads, the coming of rains results in filth everywhere and a foul smell in many parts of the city. The government should be on the alert all days of the year and make Chennai a better place to live in.

S Retnaswamy, Chennai

Probing Rafale deal

Some documents relating to the alleged kickbacks in the Rafale deal are said to have reached the CBI in 2018. What steps were initiated based on the information that the documents revealed is not known. It is also not clear what prevents the CBI or the government from pursuing any action in the issue.

Samaga Dattatri, Bengaluru

Enchanting Kerala art form

For introducing The dancing Gods and Goddesses of Malabar (Nov 10) to the people of the country, the author deserves appreciation. Theyyam—enchanting in its content, colour and costumes—is unfamiliar to many even in the state. Just staging Theyyam performances in art festivals for foreign tourists would not make this art form popular in other parts of Kerala and the rest of the country. The writer has also elucidated the historical, mythological and puranic background and touched upon the costumes that the characters wear in consonance with their nature.

Union Cabinet restores MPLADS after break caused by pandemic

Parliamentarians to get ₹2 crore each for rest of 2021-22 and ₹5 crore per year thereafter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Union Cabinet on Wednesday decided to restore the Member of Parliament Local Area Development Scheme (MPLADS). MPs will get ₹2 crore for development activities for the remainder of 2021-22 and annually ₹5 crore thereafter.

The MPLAD Scheme was suspended in April 2020 due to the pandemic and funds went into the Consolidated Fund of India. Announcing the decision at a press conference, Information and Broadcasting Minister Anurag Thakur said the Union Cabinet chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi decided to restore the scheme for the remaining part of financial year 2021-22. The scheme will continue till 2025-26.

While ₹2 crore to each MP will be released in one instalment for the remainder of 2021-22, from 2022-23 to 2025-26 funds will be released at the rate of ₹5 crore per annum in two instalments of ₹2.5 crore each.

"During COVID-19, a decision had been taken by the Cabinet that for 2020-21 and 2021-22, MPLAD Scheme money will be used in the fight against the pandemic. All parliamentarians had also enthusiastically given their consent to contribute in the fight against Covid. I am glad to share with you that in view of the improvement in economic scenario, a decision has been taken to restore MPLAD Scheme for the remainder period of the fiscal 2021-22," Thakur said at the briefing.

Under the MPLAD Scheme, all MPs can recommend development programmes involving expenditure of ₹5 crore every year in their constituencies. The decision to suspend it had evoked sharp reactions from Opposition parties, which criticised the government and sought its restoration.

While the Congress said the decision would undermine the role of an MP and had sought its review, Left parties and Trinamool Congress had also slammed the government for the decision. The TMC had termed the step "whimsical" and "undemocratic".

Birsa Munda's birthday to become Tribal Pride Day

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Union cabinet chaired by PM Narendra Modi on Wednesday approved a proposal to declare November 15, the birth anniversary of Birsa Munda, as Janjatiya Gaurav Divas (Tribal Pride Day) dedicated to the memory of tribal freedom fighters.

Munda fought against the exploitations of the colonial system and spearheaded a movement against British oppression calling for ulgulan (revolution).

Information and Broadcasting Minister Anurag Thakur made the announcement about the cabinet decision. "To acknowledge the tribes and their contributions and to make future generations aware of their sacrifices for the country, the decision to celebrate November 15 as Janjatiya Gaurav Divas has been taken. The tribes have made immense contributions to the freedom struggle of the country. November 15 is the birth anniversary of Birsa Munda, a great freedom fighter and social reformer, who fought against the British," said Thakur.

The minister added that a week-long celebration under the Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav initiative to commemorate the glorious history of tribal people, their culture and achievements would begin from November 15. The government has also sanctioned 10 tribal freedom fighter museums across the country.

UP LOCK-UP DEATH

Minority youth found hanging in police station, 5 suspended

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

MYSTERY shrouded the death of a 22-year-old found hanging inside a police station in Kasganj district of UP on Tuesday. Five cops have been suspended and a probe has been ordered.

Altaf, a labourer, was summoned to Kotwali police station for interrogation in an alleged elopement case involving a minor Hindu girl. A resident of Nagla Syed area in Kasganj, Altaf's body was found hanging inside the toilet of the police station.

Kasganj SP BR Pramod suspended five policemen, including the SHO, Virendra Singh. The others are two sub-inspectors and two constables.

Altaf's family accused the police of 'murder' and held a protest outside the hospital where the autopsy was conducted. The matter was resolved after senior police officials assured the family of strict action against policemen found guilty. Heavy police force was deployed to avoid any untoward incident, said sources. With the minor girl still untraceable, Altaf's autopsy confirms death due to hanging.

According to acting SHO of Kotwali police station, Ramesh Prasad, the girl from the family where Altaf was working as a labourer went missing. The girl's father filed a complaint against Altaf alleging kidnap and an FIR was registered under IPC Section 363 (kidnapping) and 366 (kidnapping, abducting or inducing a woman to compel her marriage).

According to Altaf's father Chand Mia, a police team had gone to his house on Monday evening looking for his son. They told him to send Altaf to the police station for questioning. "After 24 hours, the police say my son has hung himself. I believe that the police were behind my son's killing," said the distraught father.

Rajnath favours inclusive theatre commands

New Delhi: Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Wednesday said the process of reorganising the armed forces into theatre commands for enhancing jointness among the forces is essential. But he added that this should be done by incorporating inputs from all the stakeholders. "Enhancing jointness is essential and the structure should be evolved after closely examining various options and inputs from all stakeholders," said Singh.

Evasive prospering nations sour climate talks

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE draft agreement CoP 26 climate talks in Glasgow on Wednesday called out countries to speed up emissions targets by 2022 taking more ambitious cuts to avoid temperature rise above 1.5°C, ending fossil fuel subsidies. But what could be a red line for developing nations is the weak commitment of rich nations on climate and adaptation finance.

Discussion on the outcome of the talks will now progress based on the draft text also called "cover decision" that recognises the impacts of climate change which will be much lower at the temperature increase of 1.5°C compared to 2°C and resolves to pursue efforts to limit the temperature increase to 1.5°C.

But there are concerns from experts that the texts don't currently go far enough on the key issues of finance, adaptation and loss and damage as there is no specific date for scaling up adaptation finance. There are also concerns that the text on ambition on emissions won't remain if the provision of finance is not scaled up.

Acknowledging the growing need of developing country parties, in particular due to the increasing impacts of climate change and increased indebtedness as a consequence of the coronavirus pandemic, and calls for greater support to be channelled through grants and other highly concessional forms of finance.

"The text needs to be stronger on finance and adaptation and needs to include real numbers in the hundreds of billions, with a delivery plan for richer countries to support less developed nations. We need a deal that commits countries to coming back every year with better plans until together they get us over the bar and we can stay below 1.5°C. Wreckers like the Saudi and Australian governments will be working to gut that part before this conference closes," said Jennifer Morgan, Executive Director, Greenpeace International.

Engineer held for rape threat to cricketer's baby daughter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA Police has arrested a 23-year-old engineer from Hyderabad for online rape threats to a popular Indian crickter star's baby daughter after India lost back-to-back matches in the T20 World Cup.

Ramnagesh Srinivas Akubathini was arrested by a special police team. He allegedly changed his Twitter handle and pretended to be a Pakistani user after cops started investigating screenshots. He has been brought to Mumbai. He was arrested under IPC sections 354 (A), 506 (A), 500 and under IT act section 67, 67 (B).

Akubathini is a software engineer and currently unemployed. He has reportedly worked for a food delivery app. He threatened to rape the player's 10-month-old daughter.

According to the police, the screenshot of this post went viral on social media and there was national outrage for targeting a 10-month-old. The police in Mumbai had been investigating several handles in prominent cities including this.

The Delhi Commission for Women (DCW) had also called for an investigation. The panel had issued a notice to Delhi Police, asking to see the FIR, details of those identified and arrested and a detailed 'action taken report'. The arrested engineer will be produced in court in due course of time, said police officials in Mumbai.

ROADS TO NEUTRALISE NAXAL MENACE

SANA SHAKIL @ New Delhi

IN what may prove to be a decisive step in India's battle against Naxals, the government has ordered construction in 'mission mode' of 12 crucial roads that lie deep in the Naxal-dominated belt. Sources said construction on some of these roads is pending for over a decade now.

Once constructed, these roads will allow mass mobilisation of forces in areas that they have not been able to penetrate in large numbers. These 12 roads, located in the three worst Naxal-hit Chhattisgarh districts — Sukma, Bijapur and Dantewada — covering about 478.6 kms have been sanctioned. But work on 214.8 kms is still pending.

"The target is completing 76.8 kms of roads pending by June. The remaining work will be completed on a priority basis in the next few years. The idea is to reclaim the region and uproot the Maoists," a home ministry official said.

The difficulty associated with the construction of these roads can be gauged from the fact that 53 CRPF personnel have been killed during construction over the last eight years. The Director General of Central Reserve Police Force, the primary combat force against Naxals, has instructed troops to expedite completion of work on the 12 roads in coordination with Chhattisgarh police.

Of the 12 roads, five fall in Sukma, one in Dantewada and four in Bijapur. Two are on the Bijapur-Sukma border and Dantewada-Sukma border. These roads will not only prove pivotal for the development of locals in the area but it would be a victory of security forces against Maoists in their strongest base.

According to sources, two such roads were sanctioned in 2012 and 2015, but work is yet to begin. On the 56-km Dornapal-Jagargunda road, work on 22 kms is pending.

The decision to construct these roads was taken in view of the decline in violence as well as the geographical spread of Left-wing extremism over the past decade. CRPF has not suffered a single casualty during road construction in the last four years which is a big achievement, a senior official pointed out.

"Maoists know the roads will be a big setback for them. Time and again they have launched attacks to delay the construction work," said an official in Chhattisgarh.

Zakia questions SIT role in Gujarat riots inquiry

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

APPEARING for Zakia Jafri, widow of Ehsan Jafri who was killed in the 2002 Gujarat riots, senior advocate Kapil Sibal told the Supreme Court on Wednesday that he too has been a victim of communal violence, having lost maternal grandparents after the partition of India in 1947.

"Communal violence is like lava erupting from a volcano. It is institutionalised violence. Wherever that lava touches, it scars the earth. It is a fertile ground for future revenge," Sibal said. Arguing before a bench of Justices AM Khanwilkar, Dinesh Maheshwari and CT Ravikumar, Sibal said the Special Investigative Team looking into the Gujarat riots ignored a mass of evidence and drew conclusions without any investigation.

"SIT did not record statements, seize phones, check how bombs were manufactured and straightaway filed closure reports," Sibal said, challenging the clean chit given by SIT to the accused including then Gujarat Chief Minister Narendra Modi.

He said the SIT ignored the tapes of a sting operation by Tehelka magazine, in which many gave statements on their participation in violence and accumulation of arms. Although these tapes were used for conviction in the Naroda Patya case and the Gujarat HC had endorsed their authenticity, the SIT ignored them in Jafri's complaint.

Congress MP Jafri was among the 68 killed on February 28, 2002 — a day after a coach of the Sabarmati Express was burnt, killing 59 and triggering riots.

Coming soon! India's first world-class station

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

HABIBGANJ railway station in Bhopal, which has been redeveloped as the country's first world class station with facilities equivalent of a modern airport, will soon to be dedicated to the nation by Prime Minister Narendra Modi. It will tentatively be on November 15.

The station has been equipped with modern facilities after being developed on the PPP mode at the cost of ₹450 crore by the Indian Railways Station Development Corporation. There will be facilities like lounges, ATMs and others. There will also be lifts, escalators and moving walkways.

"Travelators have been installed in addition to escalators at this station, giving it an ultra modern look," said a senior official of the Railway Board, adding that arrangements for fire safety, crowd management, access control, CCTV surveillance have also been made.

The station has been totally revamped following 'Green Buildings' norms, wherein lights are operated by an energy-efficient promoting system with solar energy as back-up.

Other facilities like washrooms, catering points, drinking water kiosks and senior citizen-friendly amenities have also been provided. There is a water treatment plant for reuse of water other than a 24-hour wi-fi service.

Sources added that the railway ministry is working to develop 123 world class railway stations in the same mode. According to sources, Prime Minister Modi has been requested to be present and is expected to dedicate this station to the nation on November 15 or on some other day, as per his availability of time.

Vande Bharat Express

If thing go per plan, Indian Railways will introduce the country's third indigenously manufactured high speed Vande Bharat Express by March 31 next year. Manufacturing of rakes is near completion at Integral Coach Factory in Chennai and would soon be handed over to the Railways.

This is a semi speed EMU train, manufactured with a running capacity of 160 to 200 kmph per hour. "By 2023, 45 Vande Bharat trains would be rolled out," said a source. At present, two rakes of Vande Bharat trains run between New Delhi and Varanasi.

Gehlot & Pilot meet high command

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi/Jaipur

TO end the rift in Rajasthan, Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot and former state chief Sachin Pilot held separate discussions with top Congress leadership over the proposed cabinet reshuffle and major political appointments in the state.

Sources say the party high command had prepared a blueprint for cabinet expansion which was discussed with Gehlot and Pilot. The process, pending for some time, is likely to start at the earliest. The high command wants to settle the matter at the earliest to avoid a crisis situation like Punjab.

Gehlot met general secretary (organization) KC Venugopal, general secretary UP Priyanka

Gandhi Vadra and state incharge Ajay Maken at former party chief Rahul Gandhi's residence. Pilot also met Venugopal Wednesday to discuss induction of his supporters in the government, boards, corporations and in the organisation.

Sources say that besides identifying the new ministers, names of the chairpersons for various boards and corporations were decided in this meeting. In Rajasthan, appointments of chairman and members are to be made in 40 boards, corporations and commissions. In addition, how much VAT rates should be reduced on petrol and diesel was also discussed.

Before leaving for Delhi, CM Gehlot had visited Jodhpur on Tuesday where he had given clear indications about the expansion of the cabinet. Asked why he was going to Delhi, he clearly hinted that the expansion of the cabinet was on the agenda of his trip to Delhi.

There is pressure on the high command to give space in the government and party organisation to Pilot and his supporters. Independent and ex-BSP MLAs who supported the government during the crisis after Pilot's rebellion a year ago, will also be suitably rewarded.

Fadnavis shielded fake currency biz: Malik

Ex-CM appointed people with criminal background or links to government boards & other posts, alleges NCP leader

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

A day after he threatened to drop a 'hydrogen bomb', Maharashtra minister and NCP spokesperson alleged that BJP leader Devendra Fadnavis patronised people involved in fake currency business when he was chief minister and appointed persons with criminal background to various posts.

At a press conference, Malik said that after the demonetisation in 2016, fake currencies were detected and seized everywhere, but in Maharashtra there was no seizure, hinting that the then CM Fadnavis shielded the fake currency racket. Malik went on to claim that on October 8, 2017, the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence had seized fake bank notes worth ₹14.80 crore and a case was registered at Bandra Kurla Complex in Mumbai, "but Fadnavis helped sweep the case under the carpet".

Two people named Imran Alam Sheikh and Riyaz Sheikh, who had links with Pakistan's ISI and Bangladesh, were arrested in the case. However, they were released within two days and the seized amount was shown to be only ₹8.80 lakh, Malik alleged.

Not just that, Fadnavis later appointed Imran Alam Sheikh's brother Haji Arafat Sheikh as chairman of the state minority commission, a post that has cabinet rank, Malik said.

Malik further said that the Fadnavis government had appointed Haidar Alam as chairman of another key board with cabinet rank status. Alam's second wife was a Bangladeshi illegal staying in Mumbai. A case was registered against her at Malad police station but the CM's office put pressure on police not to pursue this case, Malik alleged.

Munna Yadav, a hardcore criminal facing murder and other serious charges, was made chairman of construction board, he added.

Sharing photographs of one Riyaz Bhatt with Fadnavis and some other BJP leaders, the NCP minister alleged that the person had connections with the underworld and was caught at Mumbai airport with a double passport. He even attended PM Narendra Modi's event. Malik alleged that Bhatt used to extort money as part of a nexus among the underworld, police and Fadnavis.

Patwalia likely to be new Punjab AG, row not over yet

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

SENIOR advocate Deepinder Singh Patwalia, considered close to Punjab Congress president Navjot Singh Sidhu, is likely to be appointed as the new advocate general of Punjab. But the controversy over the post is not over even after APS Deol's exit.

Former state Congress chief Sunil Jakhar took a dig at his own government on Wednesday over the issue while Anandpur Sahib MP Manish Tewari had a word of advice for the government and the new appointee.

Hitting out at Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi over Deol's removal under relentless pressure from Sidhu, Jakhar tweeted, "The ouster of a competent yet 'allegedly' compromised officer has exposed a 'really' compromised CM. Giving rise to a pertinent question- Whose government is it Anyway? (*Apologies to BBC's radio drama - Whose line is it Anyway)"

Tewari, meanwhile, citing Bar Council of India rules, cautioned that "politicising AG's office undermines the integrity of Constitutional functionaries". Both the previous AGs of Punjab became "punching bags in proxy political wars", he tweeted, adding, "Those who subvert the institution of AG's office need to remember a lawyer is neither wedded to a client or a brief".

In another late development, senior advocate Mukesh Berry tendered his resignation, two days after his appointment as Punjab's additional advocate general. He has asked the state government 'not to ridicule and diminish the status of senior advocates'. Berry was appointed as additional advocate general on Monday.

AAP STRUGGLES WITH INFIGHTING IN PUNJAB

The Aam Aadmi Party in Punjab remains in a state of disarray despite Assembly elections being just a few months away. Due to the constant infighting, the party is struggling to save its sinking ship with several leaders quitting, the latest being Bathinda Rural (Reserved) legislator Rupinder Kaur Ruby who joined the Congress on Wednesday in the presence of Channi and Sidhu. So far, five Aam Aadmi Party MLAs including Ruby joined the Congress while one was disqualified from the assembly and another party legislator quit politics for good.

CRITICISM

Sacking of govt staff dictatorial, says J&K union

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Srinagar

AFTER maintaining total silence over sacking of government employees by the Lt Governor, one of the employees' body of Jammu and Kashmir — Employees Joint Action Committee (EJAC) finally reacted to the sacking and termed it "dictatorial and unconstitutional" and asserted that it could lead to brain drain.

EJAC president Fayaz Ahmad Shabnum said there may be "some trivial issues" that merit reprimand for sake of accountability but sacking employees forthwith and giving out no tangible reasons is "by far and large dictatorial and unconstitutional".

He said it is a well known fact that one seeks employability not for his/her individual needs only but the job caters to the needs of the entire family, dependants of the employee. Hence, showing exit to one person is depriving livelihood rights to a whole family.

"The way employees are being treated in the current regime is totally deplorable and discouraging for the intelligentsia, who in turn shall prefer foreign jobs rather to serve the motherland. This will surely have adverse and hazardous effects on our development in the long run," he said.

The Jammu &Kashmir government has so far sacked over 30 employees, including grandson of late Hurriyat leader Syed Ali Geelani and sons of Hizb chief Syed Salah-ud-Din, for alleged anti-national activities and "in the interest of the security of the state" by invoking Article 311 (2) of the Constitution.

Temples shadow other issues in U'khand politics

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Dehradun

UTTARAKHAND politics, which earlier revolved around migration, corruption, drug menace, lack of infrastructure and development, has gradually shifted focus to temples, especially Char Dham shrines, ahead of Assembly polls.

Political analysts say this change is in sync with political changes in the country.

The incumbent BJP, which owes its rise as a national party to 'temple politics of Ayodhya', has always focused on 'Hindutva', 'nationalism' and related issues. However, this time every party in the Himalayan state, including the main opposition Congress, has joined the bandwagon.

Political commentator Dinesh Mansera says: "What this election season witnessing is the effect of changes happening in the country, especially in the Hindi belt. All political parties have understood the trend and are acting accordingly. And this is going to continue for a while."

Aam Aadmi Party's chief minister face for next Assembly elections, Col (retd) Ajay Kothiyal with mahants of Akhil Bharatiya Akhara Parishad on November 9 | TWITTER

The Congress has already announced that if the party forms the next government, the Char Dham Devsthanam Board will be abolished and the status quo of pre-December 2019 will be resumed.

The grand old party has been giving out signals that it doesn't want to be seen behind the BJP when it comes to courting religious politics.

Former chief minister Harish Rawat, while visiting Kedarnath shrine last month, was seen with a trident to show his devotion to Lord Shiva. The party also organised 'Jalabhishek' rituals in parallel with Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to the shrine. All these indicate a paradigm shift in the state's politics, feel analysts.

Even the Aam Aadmi Party which is trying to make its way in the hill state has been focusing largely on the same issue.

Delhi CM and party supremo Arvind Kejriwal, in one of his visits to the state, announced that if his party comes to power in Uttarakhand, the state will be made 'Spiritual Capital' of the world for Hindus.

"Earlier it was only the BJP which focused largely on Hindutva, nationalism and related issues but now other parties have understood that they can't survive on old narratives including one that of Nehruvian secularism," says Yogesh Kumar, another analyst.

With Prime Minister Narendra Modi visiting the Kedarnath shrine where he unveiled the statue of Adi Guru Shankaracharya, the BJP is already ahead of other parties.

Reconstruction work worth₹400 crore is already going on in Kedarnath and a master plan for Badrinath worth ₹250 crore has already been approved.

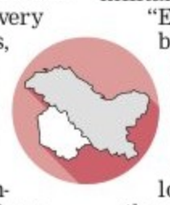
More fear this time than 1990s when J&K militancy was at peak: Pandits

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AFTER the recent spate in targeted killings of civilians and minority community members by militants in Srinagar, the Kashmiri Pandits in the Valley said there is more fear this time as compared to 1990 when militancy had erupted in Jammu and Kashmir. However, the Pandit businessman, whose salesman was shot dead by militants near his shop on Monday evening, has asserted that he won't leave Kashmir.

Kashmiri Pandit Sangarsh Samiti president Sanjay Tickoo told this newspaper that there is more fear, especially in Srinagar, now as compared to early 1990s.

"The killings today are taking place at will. This is very dangerous. In the 1990s, the militants were identifiable but today nobody knows anything about these militants," Tickoo said.



At least 808 Pandit families had not migrated from the Valley after eruption of militancy in early 1990s.

"Earlier, I used to go out but nowadays I have restricted my movement. The main door of my house used to remain open during the day but nowadays it remains locked 24x7 and we peep through the window whenever somebody knocks at the door before opening the door," said another Kashmiri Pandit.

He said this situation was not this alarming when militancy was at its peak in the 1990s.

The Kashmiri Pandit businessman Dr Sandip Mawa, whose salesman was shot dead by militants in an apparent mistaken identity by militants on Monday, said he had been alerted by the police about eight months back that he and his father were facing threat.

He said the majority community is also in fear as they are unable to do anything. "They are trying to scare the minority and majority communities".

Sandeep, however, said there is no question of him leaving this place.

12 people burnt to death as bus, lorry collide head-on in Rajasthan's Barmer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Jaipur

AT least 12 people, including a six-month-old baby girl, were killed on Wednesday after a bus and a lorry collided head-on at Pachpadra in Barmer of Western Rajasthan. The victims were burnt alive as the two vehicles caught fire immediately after the collision on Barmer-Jodhpur highway.

Nineteen other injured passengers are undergoing treatment at various hospitals. It is suspected that diesel tank of the lorry caught fire due to the impact of the collision. Traffic on the highway was disrupted following the incident.

The accident happened around 11.30 am near Bhandiyawas village of Pachpadra police station area. There were about three dozen passengers in the bus which was going from Balotra to Jodhpur. The lorry, coming in opposite direction, rammed the bus while attempting to overtake another vehicle, officials said.

Identity of the victims is yet to be known. Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot condoled the families of victims.

Yogi visits Zika-hit Kanpur, reviews situation

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

WITH Zika infection tally breaching the 100-mark, UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath on Wednesday visited the worst-hit Kanpur and spoke to family members of the patients besides reviewing the containment efforts.

As many as 106 people have been diagnosed with the viral infection in the state so far with first case coming to light at Chakeri Air Force Station in Kanpur on October 23.

The CM assured the people of Kanpur of taking all the measures to stop the spread of the virus. He said that of the 106 positive cases detected so far, 17 patients have already recovered. Five municipal wards of the city are in the grip of the virus, said Yogi.

He urged Kanpur residents not to panic as the district administration, health department and municipal authorities have been strategically working to increase surveillance, sanitisation and investigation in the affected areas.

"Our team is identifying symptomatic people and providing them with medicine kits," he said, adding that the remaining patients would recover soon.

A senior health official in Kanpur said around 100 teams are deployed in the city for source-reduction, 100 teams for home-sampling and additional 15 rapid response teams (RRT) to check the virus' spread. "The source-detection teams visited 3,777 houses on Tuesday taking the cumulative tally to 40,238," he said. The official further said relatives of the patients were under the surveillance.

Kovind will be in the city for the centenary celebrations of Punjab Engineering College on November 16. The Chandigarh Administration is trying to include the inauguration of the aviary in his schedule. The Chandigarh Forest and Wildlife Department has set up this aviary. There are roughly 1,470 birds of 46 species. It has separate enclosures for aquatic and terrestrial birds. It has been developed on the lines of Jurong Bird Park in Singapore. The aviary will later be opened for public.

Singh to take over as Deputy Commissioner

Vinay Pratap Singh will be the new Deputy Commissioner of Chandigarh city. A Haryana-cadre Indian Administrative Service officer of 2011 batch, Singh is presently posted as Deputy Commissioner of Panchkula in Haryana, the neighboring district of Chandigarh. The Appointments Committee of the Cabinet and Department of Personnel and Training in Union Government have approved the proposal of the Ministry of Home Affairs for an inter-cadre deputation of Singh for a period of three years or until further orders, whichever is earlier. The Haryana government had sent the names of Vinay Pratap Singh, Prabhjot Singh and Mukul Kumar to the Chandigarh Administration for the post of the DC, which is reserved for a Haryana-cadre IAS officer.

Licence fee exemption on cards for vendors

The Chandigarh Municipal Corporation is mulling to exempt registered street vendors from paying vending licence fee for the period when Covid-19 restrictions were imposed in the city. The corporation in its November 12 meeting will bring up this point for approval. It is proposed that the exemption should be given for May when the Chandigarh Administration had imposed restrictions. But councillors might demand to increase the period of exemption. The vendors pay between ₹300 and ₹2,000 per month depending upon their category and area of vending.

₹1.43 cr from fancy car numbers auction

Pak apex court grills Imran over talks with group responsible for 2014 massacre

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN Prime Miniters Imran Khan on Wednesday faced a barrage of questions at a hearing of the 2014 terror attack on an Army-run school during which the Supreme Court bench asked the Pakistan prime minister why he was negotiating with the culprits of the massacre of nearly 150 people, mostly students.

The apex court gave a month-long deadline to the government to determine the responsibility for security failure in the horrific attack in which 147 people, 132 of them children, were killed when Tehreek-i-Taliban Pakistan (TTP) militants stormed the Army Public School (APS) in Peshawar.

The court asked Khan about the action taken after a special commission in its probe presented to the court last year reported that security failure was responsible for the attack.

"The satisfaction of the parents [who lost their children in the APS attack] is necessary," said Justice Ahsan addressing the premier.

The court also took the government to task for holding talks with the TTP instead of taking any action against those responsible for security failure. The government is in talks with the TTP over a "reconciliation process", with Information Minister Fawad Chaudhry having announced on Monday that a "complete ceasefire" had been reached with the banned outfit.

"You are in power. The government is also yours. What did you do? You brought those guilty to the negotiating table," Chief Justice Ahmed told Khan. Khan said that at the time of the attack his Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf party was ruling in Khyber-Pakhtunkhwa and it could only provide material compensation which it did by giving monetary support to the victims' families.

The response angered the court and the chief justice remarked that the premier was rubbing salt on the wounds of the victims. "Parents are asking where was the security system [that day]? Despite our comprehensive orders, nothing was done," he was quoted as saying by the Dawn.

Khan then said that his government would take action against anyone if tasked by the court. PTI

Trump's request to block riot-day records rejected

Biden has authority to waive Don's privilege over documents: Court

WASHINGTON

A US federal judge on Tuesday rejected the country's former president Donald Trump's request to block the release of documents to the House of Representative committee investigating the January 6 Capitol riot.

In denying a preliminary injunction, US District Judge Tanya Chutkan said Congress had a strong public interest in obtaining records that could shed light on a violent insurrection mounted by the former president's supporters.

She added that President Joe Biden had the authority to waive executive privilege over the documents despite Trump's assertions otherwise. Barring a court order, the National Archives plans to turn over Trump's records to the committee by Friday. But Trump's lawyers swiftly promised an appeal to the US Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit.

The case will likely eventually head to the US Supreme Court.

"At bottom, this is a dispute between a former and incumbent President," Chutkan wrote. "And the Supreme Court has already made clear that in such circumstances, the incumbent's view is accorded greater weight."

Trump "does not acknowledge the deference owed' to Biden's judgment as the current president, Chutkan said. She noted examples of past presidents declining to assert executive privilege and rejected what she said was Trump's claim that executive privilege 'exists in perpetuity'.

"Presidents are not kings, and Plaintiff is not President," she said.

According to an earlier court filing from the archives, the records include call logs, drafts of remarks and speeches and handwritten notes from Trump's then-chief of staff, Mark Meadows. There are also copies of talking points from then-press secretary Kayleigh McEnany and a draft Executive Order on the topic of election integrity, the National Archives has said.

Representative Bennie Thompson, who chairs the House committee, said in a statement after the ruling that the records are crucial for understanding the attack. On CNN, Thompson said Trump should stop behaving like a 'spoiled brat.' AFP

Japan's ruling party re-elects Kishida as PM

Tokyo: Fumio Kishida was re-elected as Japan's prime minister on Wednesday after his governing party scored a major victory in key parliamentary elections. Elected just over a month ago by parliament, Kishida called a quick election in which his Liberal Democratic Party secured 261 seats in the 465-member lower house, the more powerful of Japan's two-chamber legislature, enough for a free hand in pushing through legislation. The October 31 victory increased his grip on power and was seen as a mandate from voters.

SWEDEN SET TO GET ITS 1ST FEMALE PRIME MINISTER

COPENHAGEN

STEFAN Lofven stepped down on Wednesday as Sweden's prime minister, paving the way for his replacement as leader of the Social Democratic Party to become Sweden's first female head of government.

Lofven will continue as caretaking prime minister until a new government is formed, parliament speaker Andreas Norlen said. Norlen is expected to ask Finance Minister Magdalena Andersson whether she can find support in the 349-seat Riksdag assembly to form a Cabinet.

"It has been seven fantastic years, and I am very proud as a working boy to have had the privilege of leading our country during these years," Lofven said during a news conference.

Under the Swedish Constitution, prime ministers can govern as long as a parliamentary majority - a minimum 175 lawmakers - is not against them.

Andersson, 54, was elected to lead the Social Democrats during their regular party congress on November 4, Lofven, 64, announced in August that he was stepping down from the post.

The present Social Democratic-Green governing coalition hopes to secure Andersson's confirmation as prime minister with the backing of two smaller parties. Sweden has a general election set for next year. Formally, the parliament speaker will ask party leaders who may be able to form a government. AFP

Harry says he warned Dorsey about Jan 6 riot

Britain's Prince Harry said he warned the chief executive of Twitter ahead of the January 6 Capitol riots that the social media site was being used to stage political unrest in the US capital. Harry made the comments on Tuesday while he was taking part in an online panel on misinformation in California. He said he made his concerns known via email to Twitter CEO Jack Dorsey the day before the riot. "Jack and I were emailing each other prior to January 6 where I warned him that his platform was allowing a coup to be staged," Harry said at the RE:WIRED tech forum. "That email was sent the day before and then it happened and I haven't heard from him"

Pompeo, others broke law

At least 13 former Trump administration officials violated the law by intermingling campaigning with their official government duties, according to a US federal investigation

'Willful disregard for law'

The report from the Office of Special Counsel says the officials broke the law without consequence and with the administration's approval as part of a willful disregard for the Hatch Act, which prohibits government officials from using their official roles to influence elections

The office investigated officials' comments in the lead-up to the 2020 presidential election, including the Republican National Convention, which was held at the White House in a major break from historical norms

Bending State Dept policy

Former Secretary of State Michael Pompeo changed State Department policy to allow himself to speak at the convention and then referenced official work in his speech. Former Secretary of Homeland Security Chad Wolf violated the Hatch Act by presiding over a naturalisation ceremony that was orchestrated for convention programming

Trump ignored warnings

The report notes Trump was repeatedly warned about the violations by his officials, but that the former president who is responsible for enforcing the law for high-ranking officials never bothered to do that

In each case, the subject official was identified by their official title, discussed administration policies and priorities related to their official duties, and/or spoke from the White House grounds

Merkel asks Putin to put pressure on Belarus

BERLIN

THE German government says Chancellor Angela Merkel has asked Russian President Vladimir Putin to intervene with Belarus over the migrant situation on that country's border with Poland.

Merkel spoke with Putin by phone on Wednesday.

The chancellor's office said Merkel "underlined the fact that the instrumentalisation of migrants against the European Union by the Belarusian regime is inhuman and completely unacceptable, and asked the Russian president to exert his influence on the regime in Minsk." Russia is a close ally of the government in Belarus.

The readout of the call released by the Kremlin on Wednesday said Putin "proposed to establish a discussion of the problems that have arisen in direct contacts of representatives of the EU member states with Minsk."

It also said that Putin and Merkel 'agreed to continue the conversation on the issue.'

Hundreds of migrants have camping since Monday on the Belarus side of the border, near the village of Kuznica.

Poland's Defence Ministry accused Belarusian forces of firing shots into the air in a border area where migrants caught between the neighbouring countries have set up a makeshift camp. This week has seen a dramatic culmination following months of heavy migration by people from Asia seeking to enter Poland, Lithuania and Latvia.

Meanwhile, diplomats said the UN Security Council will hold an emergency meeting Thursday on the crisis. With Poland accusing Belarus of "state terrorism," the 15-member council will meet behind closed doors for a session called by Estonia, France and Ireland, diplomats said Wednesday.

EU leaders accuse the regime of Belarusian President Alexander Lukashenko of opening up a new migration route into Europe to create instability in retaliation for sanctions the bloc imposed on Lukashenko's authoritarian government over its brutal crackdown on domestic dissent. AP

Paytm IPO ends with 1.89x subscription

The fintech firm's IPO subscription is far less than that of other recent IPOs of companies like Nykaa, Zomato and Paras Defence

ECONOMIC NEWS BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

IN what seems like a growing fatigue among IPO investors, the leading digital payments and financial services platform Paytm barely managed to get 1.89 times subscription for its initial public offer (IPO) on the last day of the bidding.

The subscription is far less than that of the other recently concluded IPOs. The share sale offer of beauty and wellness brand Nykaa got subscribed over 81 times, food delivery company Zomato 38 times and Paras Defence IPO, was subscribed a whopping 304 times.

The subscription data of Paytm indicates that bigger investors have not bid as aggressively compared to recent IPOs such as Nykaa and Zomato. However, experts say, that the Paytm IPO being much bigger in size – ₹18,300 crore compared to Nykaa's (₹5,350 crore) and Zomato's (₹9,375 crore)– could have resulted in lower subscription.

On the other hand, Paytm's IPO had secured the highest-ever retail subscription on the first day with investments in excess of ₹1,000 crore. Also Paytm's large issue meant that its retail size is much larger in absolute terms of value compared to Zomato and Nykaa.

When listed, Paytm will be one of the country's most valued companies. The company is expected to list by November 18. Paytm will be heading to the markets with a $20 billion valuation.

As per exchanges data, on the final day of the bidding, Paytm IPO was oversubscribed 2.79x by QIBs and 1.66x by retail investors.

A total of 9,14,09,844 Paytm shares have been bid for as opposed to the 4,83,89,422 shares available.

Earlier on November 3, Paytm had closed the largest anchor round and raised ₹8,235 crore. Blue-chip global investors and tech-focussed funds have made their first-ever investment in Indian public markets through the Paytm IPO.

Driven by its payments and financial services offerings, Paytm's revenue was up by 46% to ₹9,480 million in Q1FY22, from ₹6,494 million in Q1FY21.

Paytm's payments and financial services alone contribute to almost 80% of its revenue.

Fuel duty cut to soften inflationary pressures: FinMin

ECONOMIC NEWS BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Finance Ministry on Wednesday said that while core inflation remains a matter of concern, the recent cut in central excise duty on petrol and diesel prices is expected to soften inflationary pressures exerted by rising crude oil prices.

"Core inflation, which reflects hardening of input costs and ripple effects of escalating global crude oil prices, poses concerns. Yet, these concerns have not embedded themselves in self fulfilling inflationary expectations as seen in RBI's inflation survey. Further, the recent cut in central excise duty on petrol and diesel prices is expected to soften inflationary pressures exerted by rising crude oil prices," the ministry said in its monthly economic report.

While Consumer Price inflation in both rural as well as urban segments eased during the month (September), core inflation continued to remain sticky at 5.9% in September. Fuel inflation also inched up to a new high of 13.6%. The Ministry was bullish about the economic growth in the coming months on the back of increased vaccination and improving economic indicators.

Core inflation concerns
While consumer price inflation eased in September, core inflation remains sticky

"With India's Covid-19 vaccination campaign crossing new milestones in rapid succession and teeming festivities lending renewed optimism to India's ongoing economic recovery, further demand stimulation, fuller restoration of supply chains, narrowing of demand-supply mismatches and greater employment generation, are in the offing," the report said.

The report was optimistic about the investment cycle. "Armed with necessary macro and micro growth drivers, the stage is set for India's investment cycle to kickstart and catalyse its recovery towards becoming the fastest growing economy in the world," it said.

Telcos get six-month 5G trial extension

ECONOMIC NEWS BUREAU
@ New Delhi

TELECOM service providers have received a major relief as the Department of Telecommunications (DoT) has decided to give a six-month extension to conduct 5G trials till May, 2022.

This comes after Bharti Airtel, Vodafone Idea and Reliance Jio had recently written to the DoT, citing readiness worries and clarity on multiple fronts, to extend the trial period.

"DoT gave an extension for 5G trials for a period of six months as requested by the operators. This move goes well for everyone," a telecom executive told TNIE on the condition of anonymity.

In May this year, the government had allocated spectrum to the telecom companies in 700 Mhz band, 3.3-3.6 Gigahertz (Ghz) band and 24.25-28.5 Ghz band for trials across various locations for six months. The current trial period was supposed to end on November 26th.

At present, DoT is also working with the Telecom Regulatory Authority India, to seek the base price recommendations. According to the current reserve price, telcos would need to pay ₹50,000 crore to acquire 100 MHz of 5G spectrum in the 3.3-3.6 GHz band, which is needed on average to deploy 5G tech.

This extension in trials is likely to delay the commercial 5G rollout in India as it will delay the much awaited spectrum auction process. According to an analyst of a leading consultancy firm, the extension pushes the auction to the second half of 2022. This would mean, a commercial roll out may only take place in early 2023. "Given the current financial condition, lack of readiness and no widespread trial conducted by a major player, the government may consider giving an extension," he said, requesting anonymity.

Cabinet hikes ethanol price by 1.28%

ECONOMIC NEWS BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Union Cabinet on Wednesday approved a hike in prices of ethanol, which is used for blending in petrol, by 1.28% to ₹63.45, up from the earlier price of ₹62.65 to benefit sugarcane farmers and also to achieve its target of 20% doping by 2025.

The Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs, chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, also decided to hike price of ethanol from C heavy molasses from ₹45.69 to ₹46.66 per litre from the upcoming financial year. The price of ethanol from B heavy molasses will increase from ₹57.61 to ₹59.08 per litre from the same period.

This will help in reducing the pending arrears of Cane farmers, dependency on crude oil imports, will help in savings in foreign exchange and bring benefits to the environment
Anurag Singh Thakur, I&B minister

The Cabinet also gave nod to 20% blending of ethanol in petrol by 2025. India is 85% dependent on imports to meet its oil needs.

Talking to media after the cabinet meet, Information and broadcast minister Anurag Singh Thakur said the hike will benefit farmers and also help cut down oil import bill.

"The approval will not only facilitate the continued policy of the Government in providing price stability and remunerative prices for ethanol suppliers, but will also help in reducing the pending arrears of Cane farmers, dependency on crude oil imports and will also help in savings in foreign exchange and bring benefits to the environment," said a press release by the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs.

Currently, law allows doping of up to 10% ethanol in petrol with a view to cut oil import and vehicular emissions.

The government has decided that Oil PSEs should be given the freedom to decide the pricing for 2G ethanol as this would help in setting up advanced biofuel refineries in the country. It is important to note that grain-based ethanol prices are currently being decided by Oil Marketing Companies (OMCs) only, it said in a statement.

The Cabinet also gave nod to committed price support of ₹17,408.85 crore to the Cotton Corporation of India.

TODAY'S STOCK PICK

Current Price ₹515
Target Price ₹540
VRL LOGISTICS

We expect VRL to clock 19% revenue CAGR. With robust volumes and cost efficiency measures, it would be able to maintain its EBITDA margin profile at 14-15% over the next two years. The strong pick up in volumes allowed VRL to offset the increase in diesel prices. We expect VRL to clock a revenue/EBITDA/PAT CAGR of ~19%/19%/45% over FY21-24E.

New Unicorn Good Glamm Group eyes international expansion and IPO

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

CONTENT-to-commerce conglomerate The Good Glamm Group is the latest to join the coveted unicorn club after raising $150 million funding. The company will also look to set its foot in international markets by the end of next year and will target an IPO (Initial Public Offering) in FY23-24.

Speaking to TNIE, Darpan Sanghvi, Founder and Group CEO, The Good Glamm Group said, time has come for the beauty and personal care company to go international. "We are studying the market and our goal is to enter the international market by August-November next year," he said.

The Good Glamm Group comprises a portfolio of proprietary beauty and personal care brands. Its current revenue run rate is $120 million and it aims to reach $250 million run rate by March 2022.

"We are close to EBITDA breakeven and by FY 22-23, we want to start generating cash. Our priority is to generate cash along with growth," Sanghvi said.

Entering the unicorn club was a dream come true for both co-founders- Priyanka Gill and Naiyya Saggi. "Ours is a story of collaboration and teamwork and it's a milestone for us," said Saggi, the founder and CEO of BabyChakra.

In August this year, MyGlamm acquired BabyChakra, which is the largest parenting platform. MyGlamm had invested ₹100 crore in BabyChakra.

The group will utilise the latest funding to invest in product development, support data science and technology research and increase offline expansion.

Sanghvi said that they are lucky to get some brands and also have built great brands. "We want all these brands that we acquired and brought to be in the Top 2 in the respective segments," he said. The group has made acquisitions and investments worth $270 million to date. It also sees some white space opportunities in the men's grooming space.

According to Statista, which specialises in market and consumer data, revenue in the Beauty and Personal Care market in India is $24,048 million in 2021 and the market will grow annually by 5.61% CAGR 2021-2025.

Saggi said almost 65% of customers come from Tier-II and III markets and that aspiration is very high in these markets. Also, 25% of the group sales come from offline channels.

"Our Offline sales have been great during this Diwali and Karwa Chauth season. It grew 100% over last year and also during last year, we grew 30% over the previous year. In India, you cannot be a big brand without offline presence. We have an offline presence in 120 cities and will expand it to over 200 cities soon," said Sanghvi.

We are close to EBITDA breakeven and by FY 22-23, we want to start generating cash. Our priority is to generate cash along with growth

QUARTERLY RESULTS

India Cements reports 69% drop in Sept net profit on cost pressure

CHENNAI: India Cements has reported a drop of 69% in net profit to ₹21.97 crore for the quarter ending September 30 against ₹71.43 crore in the same quarter in 2020-21. The company said the dip in profit is mainly on account of cost pressure due to the spike in fuel prices. Total revenue of the company came down to ₹1193.35 crore compared to ₹1075.45 crore in the corresponding quarter last year. The MD of the company, N Srinivasan said, "The quarter witnessed cost pressure through increase in price of fuel and ever-increasing prices of petroleum products. However, the company could turn out a reasonable performance through an increase in volume in the extended marketing zones." The capacity utilisation during the second quarter ending September 30, 2021 improved to 61% from 54% during the same quarter last year. Coal prices in particular shot up substantially to a record level in the last four months impacting the cost of production of the core industries, said Srinivasan.

Bank of Baroda Q2 net profit up 24% at ₹2,088 crore

NEW Delhi: State-run lender Bank of Baroda on Wednesday reported 24% rise in standalone net profit at 2,088 crore in the September quarter as against ₹1,679 crore in the year-ago period. The total interest income was down by 6.33% to ₹16,692 crore, as against ₹17,820 crore in the year-ago quarter. Net interest income rose 2% to ₹7,566 crore as compared to ₹7,508 crore in Q2FY21. The bank's total income during the July-September quarter of 2021-22, fell to ₹20,270.74 crore, as against ₹20,729.31 in the same period of 2020-21, Bank of Baroda said in a regulatory filing. Bank of Baroda said its retail loan portfolio grew 10.25% on a YoY basis, led by 33.12% growth in personal loan portfolio, 23.17% growth in auto loan and 11.09% growth in education loan. The agriculture loan portfolio grew 7.39% to ₹1,00,748 crore, while organic MSME portfolio increased 4.12% to ₹89,339 crore. The Gross NPA of the bank reduced to ₹59,504 crore in Q2FY22 from ₹65,698 crore in Q2FY21.

Zomato's consolidated net loss widens to ₹440 crore

ECONOMIC NEWS BUREAU
@ New Delhi

FOOD delivery and hyperlocal e-commerce company Zomato's consolidated net losses increased 89% year-on-year to ₹440 crore in the quarter-ended September 2021.

Sequentially also, the losses increased 21%.

The adjusted revenue, however, grew 145% year-on-year and 23% quarter-on-quarter to ₹1420 crore during the quarter. Adjusted EBITDA loss increased to ₹310 crore in September 2021 quarter as compared to ₹170 crore in the previous quarter (Q1 FY22) and ₹70 crore in the second quarter of last year.

The company's expenses also trebled year-on-year to ₹1,602 crore in the second quarter this year compared to ₹585 crore last year. In the first quarter, the company's expenses were to the tune of ₹1,260 crore.

According to a statement from Zomato, the losses went up during the quarter due to investments in the growth of the food delivery business.

"Three reasons to be specific –increased spending on branding and marketing for customer acquisition; increased investments and growing share of smaller/emerging geographies in our business (which are less profitable today compared to more mature cities); and increased delivery costs due to unpredictable weather and increase in fuel prices," says the company, which got listed earlier in July this year.

Meanwhile, the company today announced two acquisitions -- one in hyperlocal commerce space and another in the logistics solution technology space. It acquired 8% stake in Bigfoot Retail Solutions Pvt Ltd for ₹557 crore and 16% in Samast Technologies Pvt Ltd for ₹371 crore.

Maruti Suzuki launches Celerio; Claims mileage of 26.6 kmpl

ECONOMIC NEWS BUREAU
@ New Delhi

INDIA'S largest carmaker Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) on Wednesday launched the updated version of its hatchback Celerio, priced between ₹4.99 lakh and ₹6.94 lakh (ex-showroom Delhi).

The company claims that its new offering is country's most fuel-efficient petrol car as its new engine helps the model deliver a fuel efficiency of 26.68 km per litre. The manual variants of the car are priced between ₹4.99 lakh and ₹6.44 lakh while the AGS (auto gear shift) variants are tagged between ₹6.13 lakh and ₹6.94 lakh. The company will add CNG trim later to its Celerio portfolio.

MSIL Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer Kenichi Ayukawa said that their engineers have achieved major fuel efficiency improvement ranging from 15 to 23% across variants over the outgoing Celerio. He added that in the following months, many other models will also be equipped with this next-generation K family engine.

To note, the company had stopped selling diesel-engine vehicles when India was moving away from BS4 emission norms early 2020. Maruti also sells a large number of CNG fitted PVs in India.

Commenting on the current business environment, Ayukawa said the second quarter turned out to be another challenging period for the company because of the unprecedented global supply crisis of electronic components. He added that the company believes in India's medium and long term growth story on the back of rapid vaccination and growing aspiration of consumers.

"While in terms of volume, we may still be much lower than our best of fiscal year 2018-19, but I am confident that together we will attain those levels," Ayukawa said.

MSIL chairman RC Bhargava had recently said that they will go ahead and finalise plans to set up of a ₹18,000 crore new manufacturing facility in Haryana before the end of this calendar year.

Talking about Celerio, the hatchback is powered by the next generation K-Series Engine. It offers a torque of 89Nm@3500rpm and power of 49kW@5500RPM.

MSI Senior Executive Director (Marketing and Sales) Shashank Srivastava said the model would help the company consolidate its position in the hatchback segment where it's a leader with 66% market share.

MITCH-MATCH FOR NEW ZEALAND

Mitchell's unbeaten 72& Neesham's explosive cameo help Black Caps beat England, in final

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

NAILS were bitten. Bums were clenched. Memories of 2019 kept playing on loop. A Super Over — or two — was wished. In the end, New Zealand prevailed over England with six balls to spare. It wasn't quite 'the barest of all margins' of the 2019 World Cup final but it was pretty close.

Chasing 167 under the Abu Dhabi lights, the Kiwis seemed gone for all money with 24 balls remaining with 57 needed. Then, Chris Jordan got the ball. The one weakness in this England bowling line-up is death overs largesse. Jordan showed why. He went looking for the yorker but repeatedly kept missing it. James Neesham, the only death over specialist in this New Zealand squad, decided to flex his muscle. The first ball was pumped over mid wicket for six, bringing the equation down to 51 from 23.

By the time Jordan was done, that was down to 34 from 18. Neesham's 26 off 10 was the catalyst that swung the game in their favour. It was also fitting Daryl Mitchell, a middle-order batter who had seldom opened before being asked to give it a go at the World Cup, struck the winning runs. His 73 off 48 (he was 54 off 43 with two overs remaining) was the glue that held the innings after Chris Woakes' classical Test match length had reduced the Kiwis to 2/13 after 2.4 overs.

There was even a Trent Boult style touching the boundary rope by Jonny Bairstow off Neesham to provoke memories of 2019. But NZ, who have now reached three of the last five ICC white ball finals, upended the form sheet.

Coming into match, the form sheet favoured England because of how they interpret the format. T20 matches are usually won by sides who go batting heavy, especially against sides like New Zealand, who favour bowling. That's why two numbers dominated the build-up: 8.33 and 5.73. The former was England's runs per over in the powerplay, the best in the tournament. The latter was the Kiwis' economy rate during the same phase, one of the best in the tournament. It was the perfect combination of fire and ice.

When Williamson had no hesitation in inserting England in, this clash of ideology would be front and centre straightaway. And it was Tim Southee, Trent Boult and Adam Milne again who won the powerplay. England picked up only 40 runs (run rate of 6.67, well below their average of 8.33) in this phase — that they managed to score only four boundaries off the bat with zero sixes for the loss of Bairstow — showed the level of the control Kiwis had. Both Southee and Boult found swing and used it expertly to tie both of them down. In all, there were 18 dots in this phase.

When Ish Sodhi capitalised on the work done before him by removing Jos Buttler, the Kiwis may have been forgiven for giving themselves a pat on the back. 2/53 after 8.1 overs was advantage Black Caps. But there is a reason why England tend to go batting heavy: a) it's their strength and, according to them, b) it gives them the buffer to recover from potentially iffy starts. A combination of Dawid Malan and Moeen Ali, a positive match-up against both Mitchell Santner and Sodhi, rescued the 2016 finalists with a 63-run partnership. England scored 99 and finish on 166. It looked like it was enough before Mitchell and Neesham made them pay for the runs the England batters left during their innings. In the end, it was also a triumph for their ideology. The bowlers restricted England both in the powerplay and at the death which gave their batters a window of opportunity to exploit England's death bowling issues.

Brief scores: England 166/4 in 20 ovs (Malan 41, Ali 51 n.o) lost to NZ 167/5 in 19ovs (Mitchell 72 n.o. Conway 46).

New Zealand batter Daryl Mitchell (centre) exults after scoring the winning-hit against England in Abu Dhabi | AFP

SHAHEEN'S PP BURSTS

Pakistan have used their numero bowling trump card in a familiar manner: at the top and at the death. It's been at the top where Shaheen Shah Afridi has been lethal, both in terms of wicket-taking as well as restricting run-scoring. In the 11 powerplay overs he has bowled so far, he has conceded just 62 runs and picked up three wickets. It's allowed Babar Azam to control powerplays.

RIZWAN/ BABAR'S SLOWNESS

This isn't necessarily a criticism, they have won five, played five after all. But there remains a feeling Pakistan's batting could come unstuck because of their strategy of wicket preservation. The most balls faced by a batter from No 4 down is Shoaib Malik's 20 against New Zealand. It has worked because Rizwan and Babar have converted their slow starts to something acceptable before the explosiveness of Asif Ali. What happens if that fails?

AUS vs PAK: THE INTRIGUING ONE

One of the storied even if one-sided rivalries in World Cup events will receive another instalment during the second semifinal. A look at Australia vs Pakistan.

WARNER/ FINCH VS RAUF/HASAN

It's fair to say Australia's openers, Aaron Finch and David Warner, have adopted boom or bust methodology. Their partnerships have been worth 4 (1.5 overs), 70 (6.5), 7 (1.2), 58 (5) and 33 (3.3). If they can successfully target one of Haris Rauf or Hasan Ali, that will force Babar's hand in giving more overs to the likes of Mohd Hafeez. It won't be easy though. Both have picked up wickets even if they have tended to be expensive on times.

7,30 PM, DUBAI

LIVE ON STAR SPORTS NETWORK

MAXWELL vs SPIN

After a really good IPL for Bangalore, Glenn Maxwell was expected to lead Australia's charge. It's safe to say he has disappointed with scores of 18 (21), 5 (6) and 6 (9). he has tried to go hard, go early, take on positive match-ups and perished. Against the contrasting spin of Shadab Khan and Imad Wasim, he has to play both aggressor as well as accumulator. This could decide the first phase.

AUS' PACERS VS ALI

In terms of runs-scored this edition in the desert, Asif Ali has made 57 across three innings. Yet to be dismissed once, he is in good six-hitting form (seven from 23 balls). Assuming Pakistan don't change their approach in the semis, how Ali plays against Josh Hazlewood, Mitchell Starc and Pat Cummins at the back end could be crucial to the outcome of this interesting contest.

After confusion, Nisha set for opening day bouts

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

A DAY before she was scheduled to compete in the 2021 senior nationals, miles away an identical name attracted a lot of unwarranted attention on wrestler Nisha Dahiya. She had recently bagged a bronze medal in the U-23 World Championships held in Belgrade, Serbia from November 1 to 7. Her namesake, also a wrestler, was shot dead along with her brother in Sonepat's Halalpur village on Wednesday.

Though frazzled initially, Nisha calmed her nerves and denied she was the unfortunate wrestler in a video posted on her social media handle. And that she was fine.

The Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) was quick to respond and posted a video on social media networking sites featuring Nisha and 2016 Rio Olympic bronze medallist Sakshi Malik wherein the former informed about her wellbeing.

"I am fine," the wrestler representing Railways said and confirmed that nothing happened to her.

Railways coach Pooja admitted that the incident brought some unwanted attention on the wrestler but she is focussed and prepared for the bouts scheduled on the opening day of the senior national championships beginning in Nandini Nagar, Gonda (Uttar Pradesh) on Thursday.

"The confusion has been cleared and she is ready to take on her opponents. The distraction should not have happened especially with the weigh-in and bouts tomorrow (Thursday) but she is well prepared and taking the much-needed rest ahead of the competition," coach Pooja told this daily.

The U-23 Worlds Medallist Nisha hails from Adiyana village of Panipat while her namesake was from Halalpur village, where the incident took place.

The news of the killings spread like a wildfire with WFI officials and Railways coaches receiving calls to enquire about Nisha. "Nisha will compete in the nationals. She is safe and training with other Railways wrestlers," Railways coach Kripashankar Patel said.

WFI assistant secretary was also flooded with calls soon after the incident. "I too received a lot of calls following which I enquired about Nisha. The Railways coaches confirmed that Nisha is safe," Tomar said.

Women's world boxing c'ships deferred to March

PTI @New Delhi

NEXT month's women's world boxing championship in Istanbul was on Wednesday postponed till March 2022 by the sport's governing body AIBA, which said the "COVID-19 situation is too difficult at present" and it cannot take the risk to proceed with the event. The event's postponement was sealed during the recent men's world championships in Belgrade where several countries expressed apprehensions about travelling to Turkey amid a surge in COVID cases. The tournament was tentatively planned from December 4 to 18 in Istanbul.

Badminton domestic season to begin in Dec

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

INDIA'S domestic shuttlers can finally look forward to getting back on the courts after missing roughly 20 months of play because of the pandemic.

The Badminton Association of India (BAI), via a press release, announced that senior ranking meets will begin in December.

"The season kicks off in Chennai with the first tournament from December 16 to 22, followed by another Level 3 tournament in Hyderabad from December 24 to 30," BAI said.

"Both events carry prize money of Rs 10 lakh each, and are a part of the Badminton Association of India's (BAI) new domestic format which was approved in 2019 but due to the pandemic was not introduced earlier. The last date of entry for the Chennai event is November 24, while that of Telangana is December 1," the release added.

GEETA PHOGAT last took the mat for a competitive wrestling bout in 2018. Back then, she finished third at the Yasar Dogu international event in Istanbul, Turkey. A lot has changed since then with India's first Commonwealth Games gold medallist giving birth to a baby boy in December 2019.

The pregnancy meant she gained weight and had to shed almost 35 kg to fulfil her ambition of getting back on the mat. The hard work she put in in the last one-and-half-year paid dividends as she qualified for the senior nationals at Nandini Nagar, Gonda (Uttar Pradesh) from Thursday.

"I was around 93-94kg after I gave birth to my child. But keeping away from the sport you love is difficult. Even when I was pregnant, I was thinking about a comeback because wrestling gives me satisfaction which nothing can give," Geeta, who will compete in 59kg, told this daily.

It all began with losing the excessive weight and getting back to her best shape. "Stamina and speed play a vital role in contact sports like wrestling. Stamina was never an issue for me because of the hard work I did in childhood but getting back the speed was not easy. Executing wrestling moves with speed was the toughest thing," added the Dangal girl.

The wrestler, whose last stint in the nationals came in 2017, produced some of her best results in 55kg — 2010 CWG gold and 2012 Worlds bronze but she chose 59kg weight category to make a comeback. "It's been more than three years so I thought 59kg would be appropriate. The 2024 Paris Olympics is the ultimate goal so I would switch to 57kg, which is an Olympic division. I cannot compete in 62kg as my sister Sangeeta (Bajrang Punia's wife) is competing there. I know the 57kg is a competitive category with Worlds medallists Anshu Malik and Sarita Mor there but I would love to compete against these good young wrestlers. The aim is to start representing the country again," said Geeta, who will take the mat on Friday.

The top-two finishers from each weight category in the nationals will get a chance to represent India in the Commonwealth Wrestling Championships scheduled in Pretoria, South Africa from December 3 to 5. Besides Geeta, the nationals will also witness participation from wrestlers like Sakshi Malik (62kg), Narsingh Yadav (74kg) and Rahul Aware (61kg).

HOW IS IT DONE

1. The mini-refinery first captures carbondioxide and water from the air
2. These are then fed into a solar reactor which converts them into a mixture of carbonmonoxide and hydrogen (syngas)
3. The syngas is converted into liquid hydrocarbons, which can include kerosene, gasoline, methanol or other fuels, to produce an alternative power source

FUEL OUT OF THIN AIR

Scientists have created fuel from thin air and sunlight for the first time, paving the way for the production of carbon-neutral hydrocarbon fuels. Researchers call their discovery a milestone that could help decarbonise the aviation sector. Here's a look

Although the system testing started in 2019, scientists confirmed this week that it is now "stable and reliable". The research, published in Nature, is being led by engineer Aldo Steinfeld, Professor of Renewable Energy Sources at ETH Zurich

According to Steinfeld, the technology is now 'mature' for use in the real world. But it will need funding to get there, especially as the carbon neutral fuel would be more expensive to produce than regular, polluting kerosene.

Problem:

Fuels produced by the first generation of commercial solar plants would be more expensive than the fossil kerosene they are meant to replace. While the scientists say this method is stable, initial costs can be prohibitive

COURT UPHOLDS $2.8 BN FINE ON GOOGLE

THE TECH GIANT HAD APPEALED AGAINST A LOWER COURT VERDICT IN 2017, PENALISING IT FOR MONOPOLISTICS TENDENCIES

TECH

BRUSSELS: Google lost an appeal on Wednesday against a $2.8-billion fine imposed by the European Union for abusing its search engine dominance. This is a big win for the bloc's anti-trust tussle with the tech titan. The ruling by the Luxembourg-based General Court confirmed the 2017 landmark decision by the European Commission.

The matter could be challenged again, however, if Google decides to turn to the EU's highest court, the European Court of Justice, for a final say.

"Today's judgment delivers the clear message that Google's conduct was unlawful and it provides the necessary legal clarity for the market," the European Commission said in a statement.

The case centres on Google's shopping service and is one of three against the search engine giant currently moving through the EU's drawn-out appeals system. At the time, the fine was the EU's biggest ever. But it was later exceeded by a 4.3-billion-euro fine against Google over its Android smartphone operating system.

In its appeal, Google and its parent company Alphabet had argued the EU was "wrong on the law, the facts, and the economics" in the search engine case. But the court said it dismissed "for the most part the action brought by the two companies, and upholds the fine imposed by the Commission".

It said that, by favouring its own Google Shopping service over rivals in its search result rankings and positioning, "Google departed from competition on the merits". It rejected Google's argument that big online retailers had their own internet sites, saying that "those platforms are not on the same market" in which users go comparison shopping.

A Google spokesperson said the company will examine the ruling. "This judgment relates to a very specific set of facts and while we will review it closely, we made changes back in 2017 to comply with the European Commission's decision," the spokesperson said.

"Our approach has worked successfully for more than three years, generating billions of clicks for more than 700 comparison shopping services."

While Google was dealt a setback in the EU, the company fended off a separate legal case in Britain on Wednesday as the Supreme Court blocked a $4 billion class-action lawsuit accusing it of illegally tracking millions of iPhone users.

The Luxembourg ruling is a win for the EU's anti-trust supremo Margrethe Vestager, who burst onto the scene in Brussels by scrapping her predecessor's more conciliatory approach to the US internet giant. Experts believe that, if it is not overturned on later appeal, Google's similar forays into vacation rentals and job ads could be next in the EU commission's firing line. Along with paying the fine, Google was told to remedy the problem identified by the EU case, even as the appeal moved forward.

The company tweaked its search display to give more prominence to rival shopping aggregators, as well as tourist and travel advice sites such as Tripadvisor and Yelp.

Germany too against Moderna jab for under-30s

VACCINE

BERLIN: German health authorities on Wednesday advised against the use of the Moderna coronavirus vaccine for people under 30 due to evidence of a small risk of cardiac inflammation.

The Stiko vaccine commission cited studies showing that mRNA jabs led in rare cases to the conditions myocarditis (inflammation of the heart muscle) and pericarditis (inflammation of the tissue surrounding the heart) in younger patients, with slightly higher prevalence in those who received Moderna.

"For people above the age of 30 there is no higher risk," it added. As a result, the Stiko updated its coronavirus vaccine guidance and "recommends that people under 30 only be vaccinated with Comirnaty," the BioNTech-Pfizer jab, one day after France issued similar guidance. The advisory covers both initial inoculations and booster jabs even if the first vaccine was Moderna, it added. The Stiko bases its recommendations on the findings of Germany's Federal Institute for Vaccines and Biomedicines, which compiles data on side effects and complications.

The US has also delayed approval of the Moderna jab for young people, though last week they recommended use of the Pfizer vaccine for children ages five to 11 after reviewing the risks of myocarditis.

Paediatric cardiologist Matthew Oster, commenting on the Pfizer recommendation at the time, said he was "much more worried" about the risks of Covid to young people than risks posed by the vaccine.

Apple 1 fetches record bid

HISTORY

A rare Apple 1, the first computer ever built by Apple and its co-founders Steve Jobs and Steve Wozniak, is going up for auction on Tuesday. The 45-year-old computer could sell for as much as $600,000 when the sale is finished, according to John Moran Auctioneers, the organization handling the sale. Known as the 'Chaffey College' Apple 1 (due to the fact it was first owned by a Chaffey professor), it is encased with koa wood. It also comes with the original Apple 1 'NTI' motherboard, power regulators and a blue Sprague 39D capacitor. The winner of the Apple 1 will also receive a 1986 Panasonic video monitor, a Xerox copy of the Apple-1 Basic manual, the operations guide and a MOS 6502 programming manual.

Bear-sized dinosaurs

PALEONTOLOGY

Sabre-toothed mammals the size of bears that lived on Earth between 300 and 250 million years ago attacked one another by biting the face, newly published research shows. Known as gorgonopsians, these massive animals — which had five-inch teeth like 'steak knives' — likely attacked one another for social dominance, the researchers said. The experts from the University of the Witwatersrand and Iziko South African Museum analyzed the skull of a gorgonopsian discovered new Cape Town, South Africa and discovered an embedded tooth in the snout. The researchers are not 100 percent of the attacker, but the 'most likely scenario' is some kind of social signaling with their 'saber-like teeth,' the researchers wrote in the study.

AR-driven tour of Olympia

TECH

A partnership between Microsoft and Greece's Ministry of Culture and Sport is offering visitors an immersive tour at one of the world's major archaeological sites. The program at ancient Olympia harnesses augmented reality that designers say has the potential to transform education, business and entertainment. The culture ministry helped Microsoft map and build virtual representations at Olympia, a site used over nearly a thousand years to host the games in ancient Greece that served as the inspiration for the modern Olympics. Users can tour the site remotely or in person with an online presentation and an augmented-like mobile app at Olympia, seeing a virtual re-creation of temples and competition areas as they walk through the ruins. At the Olympic Museum in Athens, they can use mixed-reality HoloLens headsets that overlay visual information on top of what the viewer sees.

Loss of glaciers will hurt tourism, power

CLIMATE

JAKARTA: From the southern border of Germany to the highest peaks in Africa, glaciers around the world have served as moneymaking tourist attractions, natural climate records for scientists and beacons of beliefs for indigenous groups.

With many glaciers rapidly melting because of climate change, the disappearance of the ice sheets is sure to deal a blow to countries and communities that have relied on them for generations — to make electricity, to draw visitors and to uphold ancient spiritual traditions.

The retreat can be seen in Africa, on the border of Uganda and the Democratic Republic of the Congo, where the jagged peaks of the Rwenzori Mountains jut into the sky above a green jungle. The peaks once held more than 40 glaciers, but fewer than half of them remained by 2005. Experts believe the last of the glaciers could disappear within 20 years.

The disappearance means trouble for land-locked Uganda, which gets nearly half of its power from hydroelectricity, including the power plants that rely on steady water flow from the Rwenzori glaciers.

"That hydroelectric power runs much better on more regular flows than it does peak and troughs," said Richard Taylor, a professor of hydrogeology at the University College in London. A continent away, on the southern edge of Germany's border with Austria, only 124 acres of ice remains on five glaciers combined. Experts estimate that is 88% less than the amount of ice that existed around 1850, and that the remaining glaciers will melt in 10 to 15 years. That spells bad news for the regional tourism industry that relies on the glaciers. The same issue faces Tanzania, where experts estimate that Mt. Kilimanjaro has lost about 90% of its glacial ice to melting and to sublimation, a process in which solid ice transitions to vapor without becoming a liquid first. Travel and tourism accounted for 10.7% of its GDP in 2019.

Covid drove anxious adults' memory decline

HEALTH

ANXIOUS and depressed over-50s suffered the equivalent of six years of memory decline during the first year of the pandemic, researchers said. Poor mental health in lockdown corresponded with plunging scores on short-term memory tests, said researchers from the University of Exeter and King's College London.

Scientists discovered the link by looking at five years of mental health and cognitive test data from an online study of 6,300 over-50s.

The study aims to help researchers understand what factors are involved in how the brain ages, and what can be done to keep our minds health in later life.

The study utilised measures of depression and anxiety severity commonly used in clinic.

Researchers noted a significant shift in the number of people scoring higher on these scales than previously.

LOTR-fame Peter Jackson sells firm in $1.6 bn metaverse deal

TECH

WELLINGTON: New Zealand film director Peter Jackson on Wednesday announced the sale of his Oscar-winning Weta Digital special effects business to a US software firm intent on using it to develop the virtual-reality "metaverse".

Shaping the metaverse

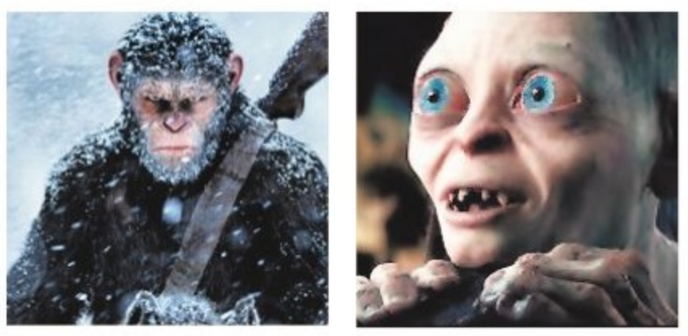
San Francisco-based Unity Software said the US$1.6 billion acquisition would "shape the future of the metaverse", an immersive 3D version of the internet tipped to transform workplaces and online interactions.

The firm said Weta's technology -- used in blockbusters such as "The Lord of the Rings" trilogy and "Avatar" – would allow its subscribers to create their own ultra-realistic corner of a virtual world.

"We are thrilled to democratise these industry-leading tools and bring the genius of Sir Peter Jackson and Weta's amazing engineering talent to life for artists everywhere," Unity president John Riccitiello said in a statement.

Under the deal, Unity takes over Wellington-based Weta Digital's technology and engineering assets while Jackson retains majority ownership of a standalone film effects company called WetaFX.



Caesar from POTA and (right) Gollum from LOTR created at jackson's studio

Jackson said the opportunity to use Weta's ground-breaking programmes was a "game-changer" for those working in creative industries.

"Together, Unity and Weta Digital can create a pathway for any artist, from any industry, to be able to leverage these incredibly creative and powerful tools," he said.

Virtual or real

The metaverse is expected to develop into an online platform that makes virtual experiences -- such as chatting with a friend or attending a concert -- feel face-to-face. It grabbed headlines last month when Facebook changed its parent company name to "Meta" to reflect founder Mark Zuckerberg's commitment to the concept.

Zuckerberg's firm has announced plans to hire 10,000 people in the European Union to build the metaverse, but other tech players are also scrambling to stake a claim in the online world.

Podcasts, gaming and music channels... Young children in Bengaluru are using screen time productively to build their presence in the digital medium

ANILA KURIAN

WHEN the pandemic-induced lockdown was announced last year, parents worried endlessly about not knowing how their children would stay entertained. Too much screen time was a worry that many had, but some parents used that to their advantage and introduced their children to interesting variations on the internet. This eventually led to some new young YouTubers. Kids under the age of 10 are exploring YouTube, instead of just watching videos... they are making them, in the form of showing the computer games they play, the new toys they got and some even exploring their singing skills.

The youngest of the lot appears to be Bengaluru's four-year-old Aryaa Sriram. She was two years old when the lockdown was announced and her father, who is popularly known as RJ Sriram, turned a bedroom in his home into a radio station. When Arya was curious to know what was happening, Sriram slowly started introducing her to his work. "She then started participating on a couple of my shows and would randomly chat with people. So this led to the idea of starting a YouTube channel for her in a podcast format," explains Sriram.

Megan Rakesh

Tarunkrishna R

Sharing an episode every week, the father-daughter duo chat about everything under the sun. "It could be a movie we recently watched or a new toy she got her hands on. She's even become a director now where she tells me how she wants the introduction to be and what my dialogues should be," Sriram says with a laugh.

To give it a teaser, Aryaa also has an Instagram account where she posts content about her daily affairs, trending reels or anything else the four-year-old wants to share.

Aryaa and Sriram Sullia

She's just 10 but she's way mature for her years. Meet singer Megan Rakesh, who, after her daily Instagram live shows with the UK and US artistes, is working consistently on building her public profile.

"My parents help me with the content on YouTube. We started off by putting videos on my songs in the YouTube Shorts section. But now that my social media platform is doing really well, I'm focussing on YouTube as well," she says. Megan is building her profile ahead of the release of her next single in January 2022. "I hope to premiere my next song on YouTube and even have an online release party," she exclaims.

Taking his audience to another dimension is 10-year-old Tarunkrishna R who uses his YouTube channel to share the games he plays. "I record my video games when I'm playing and do a voice-over as well. Depending on the game, the videos uploaded can be anywhere between half an hour to one hour," he says. It was his father who helped him set up the YouTube channel.

"I have a few friends online that I play the games with. They too are very excited to be part of it and support my interest in this," he adds.

While the children are busy exploring the digital world, parents too are equally involved in the process, monitoring their every move. But are parents worried about their child's safety? "Of course, we are. It can be a scary world out there," says Sriram, adding, "But we are managing all of Aryaa's social media accounts and it's become a space for her to learn and become confident. Having said that, we know that she will learn about harsh reality and we hope that she'll also learn to deal with it the best way possible."

TALKING FILMS

National award-winning director's film will be screened at International Film Festival of India

ANILA KURIAN

HE'S been acquainted with the world of films for as long as he can recall. Veteran director Ashoke Viswanathan, son of yesteryear actor N Viswanathan, grew up surrounded by talk on movies. So when he joined the industry, he knew much of what he needed to. But he added his own touch to his fiction and non-fiction films.

With the International Film Festival of India (IFFI) taking place next week in Goa, Viswanathan's work has once again been selected to be showcased. "It's the sixth time that my film will be showcased at IFFI. My film Badal Sircar & the Alternative Theatre will be shown on November 24," says the dean of Satyajit Ray Film and Television Institute (SRFTI) Kolkata.

Interestingly, he's also worked on a film for SRFTI called The Poet and the Universe which deals with Rabindranath Tagore's engagement with science. "It's a little known fact that Tagore dwelled on this topic, and in fact, he wrote a book on science called Visva Parichay. He deals with complex concepts of those days and wrote it in the late '70s," says Viswanathan, who has delved deep into these complex ideas.

"During my research, I found that his interest in science was because of his father who himself was apt with astronomy. He introduced it to Tagore," the director adds. Viswanathan found this piece of information interesting and decided to work on a documentary called The Poet and the Universe. "Many in Kolkata are fond of Tagore but don't really know much about his personal life. In fact, the last 10 years of his life was when he started painting in a big way. He did abstract paintings which we now call modern art. But he was mainly a classical writer and poet who broke all the norms and went in other directions, including stretching science to philosophy," he says.

While he returned to Kolkata after some official work, he's looking forward to heading to Goa next week to present his movie. "After a break since the pandemic, it'll be great to see the film festivals come alive again," says Viswanathan.

His first film Shunya Theke Shuru (1993) won the Indira Gandhi Award for the Best Debut Film as Director, and his other film, Kichhhu Sanlap Kichhu Pralap won the National Film Award — Special Jury Award in 1998.

SUPTA ARDHA PADMASANA

(SUPINE HALF LOTUS POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'supta' means reclined, 'ardha' means half, 'padma' means lotus and 'asana' means pose. It can be a healthy staple in your repertoire of asanas. It confers many of the benefits of Padmasana, but few of its potential risks. It is much easier to maintain a neutral spine when you are lying down.

STEPS

- Lie down on a yoga mat. Bend both knees and place the soles on the floor.
- Cross your right ankle all the way across your left thigh so that your ankle, not your foot, is resting on the thigh.
- Many people prefer to place their right ankle a few inches from the knee, while others prefer to place the ankle closer to the left hip joint.
- Practice it both ways, or at points in between, to see what feels best for you.
- Thread your right arm through the opening behind your right knee and grab the back of your left leg. Then, wrap your left hand around the back of your left leg and interlace the fingers of both hands.
- If your hands don't connect with each other, you can connect them with a belt or yoga strap.
- Flex your right ankle the entire time. This keeps your knee and ankle stable.
- Draw both legs in toward your torso, relaxing your shoulders and arms.
- Take deep abdominal breaths, creating space on the inhalations, and settling into that space on your exhalations.
- Take five to ten deep breaths before releasing your legs and letting both feet rest on the floor.
- Take a few breaths simply lying on your back to feel what changed; pelvis must rest on the floor. One side of your body might feel longer than the other.
- Repeat the steps on the other side.

BENEFITS

- It stretches the piriformis muscles, external rotators that cross the sacroiliac joint.
- When the piriformis is tense, it can press on the sciatic nerve, possibly causing sciatica, and can also contribute to sacroiliac dysfunction.
- This can sometimes alleviate sciatic pain and relieve excessive torque on your sacroiliac joint.
- It is traditionally practiced in a seated position. However, it can also be done in a lying position for several reasons.
- It activates Manipura (Navel) and Svadhisthana (Sacral) Chakras.

LIMITATIONS

- If you have had abdominal surgery or having a hernia problem, avoid this asana.
- Those who have spinal injury or sciatica, and pregnant women should avoid this.

Her Health

Here are some common women's health issues to keep in mind

DR NITI KRISHNA RAIZADA

WHEN it comes to women's health, we can classify it according to different groups, like cancers, gynaecological health, systemic diseases, pregnancy related and general health which includes mental health. Coming to the cancers, the most common types affecting women are breast, cervical, endometrial and ovarian.

Breast Cancer warning signs

- Bloody discharge from nipple
- Retraction of nipple, flaking skin around nipple
- Erythema i.e., redness of skin of the breast, bruising look like red or purple or bluish tint
- Arm pit / underarm swelling because of lymph nodes being affected
- Skin texture change like thickening, dimpling of skin (like an orange peel)
- Tenderness/painful breast of nipple area
- Size and shape changes of the breast

Age matters

- 20 - 30 years: Breast self-examination/awareness
- 31 - 40 years: Clinical examination by an oncologist every six months
- 41 - 55 years: Annual mammogram
- Above 55 years: Mammogram once in two years

Cancer Cervix: This cancer is common in women with promiscuous sexual activity with multiple partners and is caused by Human Papilloma Virus (HPV). We now have vaccines for this and it will protect both women from getting cervical cancer in a later date, and men from penile cancers.

To diagnose this, the gold standard test is the PAP smear and is performed once in three years in women between 20-30 years of age and once in 5 years in women between 30 -65 years of age. Screening test includes testing for the HPV.

Endometrial Cancer: This is the cancer of the inner lining of the uterus. It is more common in the perimenopausal period and amongst those who are on certain type of hormones (like taking oestrogen without progesterone, or on tamoxifen treatment for breast cancer). While there is no prescribed preventive screening test, those who develop unusual discharge, spotting, or vaginal bleeding (that's getting worse, occurring between periods, or happening after menopause) should visit a doctor for evaluation.

Ovarian Cancer: While it can occur at any age, it is more likely as a woman gets older. Women who have never had children or had their first child after 35 years are at higher risk. Family history, those who have had oestrogen only as HRT, are also high risk. While there is no recommended cancer screening tests, a routine pelvic examination and a proper history and evaluation for ovarian cancer by scanning is necessary.

Pregnancy Issues: During pregnancy, the pre-existing diseases which a lady has can worsen affecting the life of both the mother and the child she is carrying. Primarily, asthma, diabetes, anaemia, are to be looked out for apart from pregnancy per se which includes ectopic pregnancy or foetal deformities. Your obstetrician will cover all the issued during routine antenatal examinations.

General & mental health: Osteoporosis during menopause is an important cause of morbidity. Bone density testing, supplements with activated Vitamin D3 and Calcium to prevent the osteoporotic weak bones are important must-do steps to be taken by ageing women. Depression and anxiety is the other common challenge. It ranges from premenstrual syndrome (PMS) depression which is due to natural hormonal fluctuations. Also, shortly after birth, many mothers acquire a form of depression called the perinatal depression. Depression also occurs during the shift into menopause, called perimenopause depression. No matter how intense the symptoms, care providers can provide relief with prescription or therapeutic treatments and women ought to seek medical help.

Make these five lifestyle changes to avoid gastroesophageal reflux disease

GO WITH YOUR GUT

DR VIJAY CHANDRA REDDY

RAPID lifestyle changes and irregular eating habits are the main concerns of various lifestyle problems, among which Gastroesophageal Reflux disease (GRED) is one. According to experts, when the acid travels backward from the stomach to the oesophagus it causes indigestion, giving rise to an acid reflux. It is one such disorder that can affect any individual irrespective of age group. However, people tend to neglect it and self-medicate to reduce the discomfort caused by the same.

If acid reflux occurs more than twice a week, it is further assessed by a physician for gastroesophageal acid reflux. The problem arises due to nutritional indiscipline which includes irregular eating patterns, consumption of processed/packaged foods, spicy foods, alcohol, carbonated drinks. People suffering from this condition experience bad breath, nausea, excessive chest pain, difficulty in swallowing, regurgitation of food/liquid and many more issues.

Gastroesophageal reflux should not be left untreated as it can cause harmful problems like oesophageal ulcers, oesophagitis and Aspiration Pneumonia. Below are the five dietary-lifestyle changes one can adapt to avoid further complications and live a hassle-free life.

1. Avoid processed foods – Consumption of packaged/processed foods can trigger and increase the risk of developing GERD. One should refrain from consuming ready-to-eat foods or any packed foods like chocolates/ sweets/ chips/ ready-made batter etc as they come with a lot of added preservatives (bicarbonates) and sugars. In that case, stick to your home-made foods as they are fresh and they emphasise more on your traditional-local cuisine.
2. An elevated metabolic rate – Weight is a very deceiving parameter as it does not indicate our beauty/fitness/ health levels. However, what we really need to talk about is metabolism/BMR (Basal Metabolic Rate) as a higher metabolism keeps you fit and healthy. Metabolism can be increased by being nutritionally disciplined – eating on time (small frequent meals), avoiding crash diets or trending diets or the ones that come with fancy names, eating traditional, local and fresh and also being more compliant with exercise and sleep routine.
3. Water – As simple as it may sound, drinking plain water will definitely decrease acidity by manifolds. But we all have the trend of infusing water with either lemon/ginger/honey/cinnamon which in-return increases our acidity. Oh yes, we don't lose weight either.
4. Spices – Ginger, ajwain, hing are often completely banned from the diet. Ginger in your tadka or cinnamon in your tea or ajwain in paranta or hing in buttermilk do not increase your reflux but consuming a glass of ginger-lemon tea or a tablespoon of raw cinnamon powder or a tablespoon of vinegar or soda in your batter (idli/dosae) will definitely trouble you. Thus, be a little more watchful when you consume things in a fancy permutation and combination because from time immemorial, spices have been India's pride and are the best digestive aids that can be found in Indian cuisine.
5. Chew in a cross-legged position – As bookish as it may sound, the first line of digestion begins in the mouth. Thanks to our busy lifestyle, we do not "chew" food, rather we just swallow. Chewing is really important to avoid any form of indigestion. If chewing is one, relishing it and relaxing are the other two aspects that complete the triad. Chew, relish what you eat and relax by sitting in a cross-legged position on the floor devoid of any gadgets, for at least one meal a day. This will make you enjoy your meal, have a great family time and give you a stronger gut!

Apart from the above-mentioned dietary and lifestyle changes, it is equally critical to seek medical help if the problem persists and interferes with day-to-day life. Alongside, maintaining good gut health is important for the overall well-being of an individual, therefore intake of local, seasonal fruits and vegetables is recommended.

Fatty Liver and DIABETES

DR ADITYA HEGDE

NON-alcoholic fatty liver disease poses a challenge in the management of diabetes. People with non-alcoholic fatty liver must undergo proper evaluation and management. Untreated fatty liver may cause irreversible damage to the organ. People with fatty liver are at an elevated risk of developing diabetes and vice-versa.

What is fatty liver disease?

Fatty liver is a condition characterised by fat deposition in the liver, leading to its enlargement. If left untreated, fatty liver can cause liver cirrhosis. Usually, there are no observable symptoms of fatty liver, but some people may experience pain or mild discomfort in the upper right side of their stomach.

Causes

Fatty liver is caused either due to the inability of the liver to metabolise fat or due to increased production of fat in the body. The people who are at risk of developing fatty liver include:

- People with uncontrolled diabetes
- People having a high blood cholesterol level
- Obese people

How to manage fatty liver

There are no medications to treat non-alcoholic fatty liver. But by incorporating a few lifestyle and dietary changes, one can reverse the progression of this condition. The changes include:

- Avoiding consumption of alcoholic beverages
- Losing weight
- Exercising regularly
- Including plenty of green leafy vegetables, fresh fruits, and whole grains in the diet
- Controlling blood sugar levels and blood pressure levels

Blood sugar levels and metabolic function of the liver are closely related to each other. Therefore to manage diabetes, you need to tackle fatty liver and vice-versa.

NUGGETS

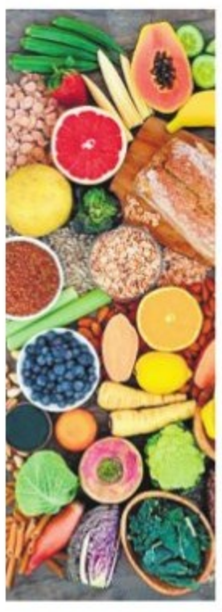
Fibre-rich diet cuts Indians' risk of Crohn's disease



Indians eat more fibre-rich plant-based diets than people in the Western countries, reducing their risk of gut-related problems such as inflammatory bowel diseases like Crohn's disease, Irritable Bowel Syndrome (IBS), colitis, and colon cancer, according to a research. The international study, including researchers from the Indian Institute of Science Education and Research (IISER)- Bhopal, sought to understand the relationship between gut bacteria and inflammatory diseases. "Increased intake of carbohydrate in the form of fibre such as wheat, vegetables, fruits and lentils, mostly found in Indian diet lowers the incidence of IBD, Crohn's disease, colitis, colectral cancer, etc., than western diets that are generally meat-based," said lead author Dr Vineet K Sharma, Associate Professor, Department of Biological Sciences, IISER Bhopal -IANS

People inhale up to 7,000 microplastic particles daily

People breathe in up to 7,000 microplastic particles every day from clothes, toys and furnishings, revealed a research. The total is 100 times higher than expected — posing a potential health threat that could rank alongside asbestos or tobacco. The study, led by Portsmouth Hospitals Trust in the UK, indicated that bedding, carpet and soft toys made from synthetic materials, as well as polyester and nylon could be major contributors of microplastics. -IANS

THE RIGHT KIND OF Education

SOULFUL

What we now call education is a matter of accumulating information and knowledge from books, which anyone who can read can do. Such education offers a subtle form of escape from ourselves and, like all escapes, it inevitably creates increasing misery. Conflict and confusion result from our own wrong relationship with people, things and ideas, and until we understand that relationship and alter it, mere learning, the gathering of facts and the acquiring of various skills, can only lead us to engulfing chaos and destruction.

As society is now organised, we send our children to school to learn some techniques by which they can eventually earn a livelihood. We want to make the child first and foremost a specialist, hoping to give him a secure economic position. But does the cultivation of a technique enable us to understand ourselves?

While it is obviously necessary to know how to read and write, and to learn engineering or some other profession, will technique give us the capacity to understand life? Surely, technique is secondary; and if technique is the only thing we are striving for, we are obviously denying what is by far the greater part of life.

Life is pain, joy, beauty, ugliness, love, and when we understand it as a whole, at every level, that understanding creates its own technique. But the contrary is not true: technique can never bring about creative understanding.

Present-day education is a complete failure because it has overemphasised technique. In overemphasising technique we destroy man. To cultivate capacity and efficiency without understanding life, without having a comprehensive perception of the ways of thought and desire, will only make us increasingly ruthless, which is to engender wars and jeopardise our physical security. The exclusive cultivation of technique has produced scientists, mathematicians, bridge builders, space conquerors; but do they understand the total process of life? Can any specialist experience life as a whole? Only when he ceases to be a specialist.

Technological progress does solve certain kinds of problems for some people at one level, but it introduces wider and deeper issues too. To live at one level, disregarding the total process of life, is to invite misery and destruction. The greatest need and most pressing problem for every individual is to have an integrated comprehension of life, which will enable him to meet its ever-increasing complexities.

Technical knowledge, however necessary, will in no way resolve our inner, psychological pressures and conflict; and it is because we have acquired technical knowledge without understanding the total process of life that technology has become a means of destroying ourselves. The man who knows how to split the atom but has no love in his heart becomes a monster.

We choose a vocation according to our capacities; but will the following of a vocation lead us out of conflict and confusion? Some form of technical training seems necessary; but when we have become engineers, physicians, accountants – then what? Is the practice of a profession the fulfilment of life? Apparently with most of us it is. Our various professions may keep us busy for the greater part of our existence; but the very things that we produce and are so entranced with are causing destruction and misery. Our attitudes and values make of things and occupations the instruments of envy, bitterness and hate.

Without understanding ourselves, mere occupation leads to frustration, with its inevitable escapes through all kinds of mischievous activities. Technique without understanding leads to enmity and ruthlessness, which we cover up with pleasant-sounding phrases. Of what value is it to emphasize technique and become efficient entities if the result is mutual destruction? Our technical progress is fantastic, but it has only increased our powers of destroying one another, and there is starvation and misery in every land. We are not peaceful and happy people.

'THE STORY OF PREMAM POOJYAM WAS NARRATED TO REBEL STAR AMBAREESH'

If not a doctor, Raghavendra would have become a director long ago; talks about his debut, Premam Poojyam, slated for a November 12 release

A SHARADHAA

FOR Raghavendra B S, who is a neurologist by profession, it is nothing but passion towards films since his school days that helped him fulfil his childhood dreams of wielding the megaphone. "If I was not a doctor, I would have been a director long ago," says this debutant director ahead of the release of his film, Premam Poojyam. The film, starring Prem, Brinda Acharya and Aindrita Ray, is set for a November 12 release.

"No doubt, I was a good student, a topper, and a gold medalist. I enjoy holding the stethoscope and serving the patients. There is satisfaction in being a doctor. However, I also enjoyed writing. Being a movie buff, I would watch a lot of films but not see them just for entertainment. I would watch it from the director's perspective and would go deep into every frame and the characters, and their performance. I would come back and write a summary of the films I used to watch, and sometimes I would have my opinion about the story and make changes. This habit of mine helped me nurture my writing and directorial skills," shares Raghavendra, who tells us that he has managed to balance his passion and profession.

Director Dr Raghavendra

Raghavendra reveals that it was a meeting with Rebel Star Ambareesh that provided wings to his film journey. "A close friend of mine, whose name is also Raghavendra S, managed to connect me to the Rebel Star. I narrated the story of Premam Poojyam to him. He was impressed with my script, and the song lyrics I had penned and had even mentioned that he would help me in making this film. Such words coming from a legendary person like him made me realise that my script had some merit. It was then that I decided to move my project forward. Sadly, Ambareesh sir wasn't with us when my film career took off," he says.

Aindrita Ray and Prem

Initially, Raghavendra wanted to just be the writer and lyricist for the film, and wanted his team to look for a director. "It was actor Prem and cinematographer Naveen Kumar, who pushed me to take up direction," he says.

Raghavendra defines Premam Poojyam as a romantic musical, "Love is such a tonic. It is like old wine, and I consider it evergreen. I do love action films and also have a subject ready. But I felt I should begin with a romantic subject, as it connects to all kinds of audiences," says the doctor-turned-director, who has doubled up as the music director and lyricist of the film, which has 12 songs. "Most of the songs are interwoven with the narration. The background score was done along with my friends, Thyagaraja M S, and Charan Rao. We had a young band of enthusiastic music lovers as part of the team.

'RAMESH ARAVIND STILL HOLDS THE SAME CHARM'

...says Poorna. who made her debut in Kannada with Josh, and is excited about her next Sandalwood outing, 100

CE FEATURES

ACTOR Poorna is excited about getting back to Sandalwood after a decade. She is part of the upcoming cyber crime thriller, 100, which stars Ramesh Aravind in the lead. The latter has also directed the Ramesh Reddy-backed film, which will be released on November 19. "Firstly, I should thank Ramesh Aravind, who made sure I got comfortable and helped me to get the lines right. Rachita Ram too was helpful," says Poorna.

Poorna shares that she has a special attachment with Sandalwood, and recalls her experience working in her debut Kannada film, Josh. "I did Josh when I was in my eleventh standard. It was a time when I was just entering the cinema. So learning languages was easy for me. Now getting back to doing a Kannada film after a hiatus, I feel I was back in kindergarten. For 100, I wrote the lines in my language and learned it before I went for the take. This also made me understand that I should be an active part of Sandalwood just like I am doing in Tamil and Telugu," says the actor.

Talking about working with Ramesh Aravind, Poorna says that she enjoyed watching his work over the years. "Ramesh Aravind holds the same charm even today, and I have often expressed this to him on the sets. Even though I had completed shooting for the film before the lockdown, he made sure to stay connected and always sent his best wishes," she says.

Poorna

This is not the first time Poorna is part of a crime thriller, but the actor shares that 100 was indeed a different subject. "This film will make everyone realise the impact of phones, and how, of late, the instrument has been a threat, especially for young girls," explains Poorna, who adds that as an actor and a public figure, she has been doubly careful while handling the phone."100 will be a film that will be important for girls and families."

Poorna also had a few words to say about the late actor Puneeth Rajkumar. "When I began my stint in Kannada, I used to listen to a lot of songs that featured Puneeth Sir. I knew he was a big star and heard a lot of good things about him from my co-artiste and best friend Bhavana. His passing away is unfortunate." she says.

Arjun Sarja-Radhika Kumaraswamy's film undergoes a title change

Initially called Kontract, the film has now been titled, Oppanda

CE FEATURES

ARJUN Sarja's upcoming film with Radhika Kumaraswamy and JD Chakravarthy, which was initially titled Kontract, has undergone a title change. It is now titled Oppanda. This announcement was made by the makers at an event where they also released the trailer and songs.

Directed by Sameer, the film is set to be released in four languages. While The Tamil version is titled Iruvar Oppantham, the Telugu title is Iddaru. The shooting of the project, which initially began in 2017, was completed before the pandemic, which put a hold on the film's release dates.

Sameer, who has written the story and is also backing the film, is gearing up to release the film in November.

Oppanda, which marks Bollywood actor Faisal Khan's debut in South cinema, will also feature Sony Charishta and Vishwanath in pivotal roles. With music by Subhash Anand, Oppanda has Aamir Lal handling the cinematography.

GAGAN ARORA'S NEXT A HORROR-COMEDY

Gagan Arora

CE FEATURES

IT's been a fortuitous few weeks for Gagan Arora. The young actor, who's been praised for his performance in Tabbar, has bagged his next. Gagan will be seen in an upcoming horror-comedy directed by Tabbar creator and co-writer Harman Wadala. The film also features Aparshakti Khurana, with whom Gagan had worked while an assistant director on Stree (2018).

"Harman is venturing into direction with an amazing script on the lines of a horror comedy/thriller," Gagan shares while wrapping up festivities at home. "It's about three boys and their journeys. Along the way, they form three couples. It's going to go on floor in mid-December. We are looking for a theatrical release next year. It's a film by Jio Studios."

Gagan has been in web shows like College Romance and Hostel Girls. In Tabbar, he plays Happy, a middle-class Punjabi boy who is helped by his family to cover up a crime. The performance has been critically feted and opened up new doors for the up-and-comer. "There's an undertone in this industry that unless you've done a serious project, you've not made it as an actor," Gagan observes. Earlier, he'd be approached by casting directors for thumbnail roles: 'Delhi boy', 'chocolate boy', 'boy next door'. Tabbar seems to have changed all that. "It's getting more experimental now," he says, "like someone reached out to me recently to host a documentary series."

"It shows how seriously people start taking you after you've done a good part in a good show," he adds.

Vijay Varma

Vijay Varma starts shooting in Jawhar

CE FEATURES

VIJAY Varma has had a packed working year. The actor has been shooting since the start of the year and has multiple projects on the cards. He is presently filming for Sumit Saxena's untitled next in Jawhar.

A source close to the actor shares, "Vijay is currently shooting in a small town near Mumbai, called Jawhar. He is working on the untitled project by Viacom 18 as of now and will wrap up the Jawhar schedule by November 18 and return to Mumbai. Post that he will resume with the Mumbai shoot schedule of this Sumit Saxena project while juggling brand commitments side by side." Vijay was earlier stationed in Varanasi for the project, before taking a break to visit his family for Diwali in Hyderabad.

John Wick: Chapter 4 wraps shooting, potential title revealed

CE FEATURES

THE much-awaited Keanu Reeves-starrer John Wick: Chapter 4 has wrapped production, and as per an Instagram post by actor Shamier Anderson, the film is titled Hagakure.

Anderson posted several pictures with Keanu Reeves and Donnie Yen to commemorate the completion of filming. One of the pictures features a drawstring bag with John Wick 4: Hagakure written on it. Notably, Hagakure means hidden by the leaves, and it refers to a practical and spiritual guidebook for a warrior. The book compiles the words of samurai Yamamoto Tsunetomo, who was once a ruler of a part of Japan.

John Wick: Chapter 4 is written by Shay Hatten and Michael Finch and directed by Chad Stahelski. The film is produced by Basil Iwanyk, Erica Lee, and Stahelski and executive produced by Reeves and Louise Rosner.
